

SENATOR King, of Utah, horrified at the decision of the Supreme Court sustaining the power of the President remove appointive officials without the consent of the Senate, proposes an amendment to the Constitution of the United States to curb this power of the President and restore it to the Senate.

Senator King may possibly get Senate approval for the amendment. It is easy to convince Senators that they should be the chief repositories of the public power. But there is small risk of his convincing anybody else.

The American people, at the present stage of their evolution, have confidence in the President. Few of them have much enthusiasm for the Senate. There have been generations in our history which reversed this emphasis, and there may come generations again which do so. Not we. We love action; not talk. We think in terms of business, where the executive gets results or fails, and where the debating society "conference" is a nuisance.

We have lost the sense of party as the organized expression of group opinion, but we have very much intensified it as a common loyalty to the game leader.

You can arouse enthusiasm anywhere by the appeal "stand by the President." Even Senators, everywhere, seek votes on the claim that the President needs them, to do his bidding. And we rise to the appeal. We really believe in presidential rule. We have reached an age when it is shockingly important who is President, or Governor, and pitifully insignificant who makes up Congress or the Legislature. The chief consideration in respect to legislators is whether they will stand with or against the executive. For better or for worse—our successors must well think it for worse—we are in the executive age. Senator King was born too late, or too early.

MARS is making his biennial visit to the earth. He has been doing this for half the years since the earth began; but, until recently nobody cared. Nothing interests us, unless it happens to us, or to those like us. As soon as we discovered that the red apparition of Mars did not portend wars on earth, we promptly forgot it until somebody started the speculation that there might be men on Mars. Then we became intensely curious. If it shall later be shown, as now seems probable, that there are no men or other intelligent creatures on our sister planet, we may lose interest again.

YET, even from the narrow standpoint of caring for no knowledge unless it is knowledge about men, there is a perennial interest in this, the nearest of our neighbors and the only one which at all resembles our own globe.

Just by the doctrine of chances, it would be enormously improbable that two planets attached to the same sun, and especially two adjacent planets, should be simultaneously the abodes of intelligent life. Even the earth, which is demonstrably a place fit to live on, since we live there, has been uninhabitable for any life during most of its career, and has been inhabited by intelligent life for only the barest last few pulse-beats of its age. Just as it would practically never happen that in a chance group of eight men, two of them should be exactly forty-seven years, three months, six days, seven hours, twenty-eight minutes and three seconds old, so it is not to be expected that in any small group of planets about one sun, two of them should be in the brief stage of intelligent life.

SO IT is not disappointing if Mars turns out to have no Martians. But it is infinitely intriguing to the imagination if it can be shown to have life of any sort, even if it be nothing higher than mosses and lichens. The present indications point strongly in that direction. It is known that there can be nothing which we would recognize as life on any other planet of our system, unless it be Venus, and there we shall never see it through the thick masses of cloud on Venus if it is there. Mercury is close to the sun, constantly baked red hot. Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus and Neptune are not even solid bodies. If there is a small solid or liquid core, somewhere inside their vast gaseous masses, nothing resembling what we call life could live on it. If there are (as there must be) planets about other stars, they are too far away for us ever to see. So, unless life exists on Mars, we shall never know by direct evidence that it exists anywhere in all the infinite universe, save on our infinitesimal speck of star dust.

But if it does exist on Mars, in how low a form, then we have evidence as well as inference that life is not the monopoly of our planet. If it exists in two places, it is unthinkable that it does not exist in more. And in the infinitude of stars, it is inconceivable that there are not some somewhere, with planets in the same stage of development as our earth.

THE chances are thus against the Martians. Certainly, there will be no men, and probably no higher animals, surviving on earth when it reaches the stage of Mars. We have probably no brothers there. But we are cousins, even on earth, to the mosses and the microbes. Historically, on earth, the amoeba did grow limbs and organs and senses, and finally mind and an immortal soul, and became Man. If on so much as one other planet in the universe there live our humblest cousins, we need no longer guess—we know—that somewhere else exist our brothers, or the supermen, our nephews.

WRIGHT ACT UPHELD BY VOTERS

Jury Finds Goodwin Guilty of Murder

HANGING IS PENALTY FOR ACTOR-PRIEST

Man First-Degree Killer, 12 Jurors Declare, and Make No Recommendation

DEFENDANT NOT MOVED
Court Has No Alternative But to Sentence Convicted Cleric to Noose Death

PHILIP A. GOODWIN was found guilty of first-degree murder, entailing the death penalty, when the jury returned its verdict at 11:14 a. m. today.

Time for pronouncing sentence was set by Judge E. J. Marks for next Tuesday, at 10 a. m. At that time, the defense announced, it will move for a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence. If the motion is denied, an appeal will be taken.

The jury, it was said, reached its verdict on the second ballot, having retired to deliberate at 10:27 a. m. The first ballot stood 10 to 2 for conviction. The recommendation was accompanied with discussing recommendation of a life sentence. The recommendation was finally voted down.

Judge Must Say Death

Under the verdict, as it stands, Judge Marks has no alternative to pronouncing the death penalty, it is said.

The courtroom was filled when the verdict was announced by Foreman Frank E. of Santa Ana, who stood to read the brief statement that sounded the doom of the American-Catholic priest for the alleged murder of Joseph J. Patterson.

Court Clerk H. M. Head polled the jury, each juror affirming the verdict. The one woman juror, Mrs. Pauline Kroeger, of Anaheim, responded with a firm, clear "yes, sir," when it came her turn.

Goodwin sat beside his counsel, his face deepening its normal pallor. He maintained a rigid silence. After court adjourned, his attorney declared that Goodwin was "not the least worried."

The nature of new evidence which the defense claims to have uncovered was not disclosed by Gould.

Jury's Speed Surprise

The speed with which the jury reached its verdict was the surprise of the trial, for most observers. Many of the jurors had brought their overcoats, preparing for night sessions in the jury room.

When court opened today, Judge E. J. Marks proceeded to read his instructions to the jury. These were comparatively brief, covering only first-degree murder. The jury had four verdict forms before it, one that was voted, another recommending life sentence, a third finding first-degree murder, with the defendant under 18 years of age, and the fourth the "not guilty" form.

Foreman E. made a brief address from the jury box, after reading the verdict. He thanked the court for kindness shown the jury, and told the assembled spectators that they were fortunate in having elected a judge like Judge Marks.

The prosecution of Goodwin was completed at a night session yesterday, when District Attorney A. P. Nelson spoke to the jury until nearly 9 o'clock, summing up the case for the state. He portrayed Goodwin as a sham priest with a sham story. Godly garb concealing a Satanic character; a colossal liar, but one deadly shrewd.

Demands Death Penalty

It was the prosecutor's final plea, ending with a dramatic demand for the death penalty, which rang through the courtroom:

"To be hanged by the neck un-

DISADVANTAGE TO G. O. P. IN SENATE SEEN

Republicans to Be Curbed In Lawmaking Program In New Congress

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Far-reaching political and legislative effects, involving pending issues and present leadership of the Republican and Democratic parties, were envisaged by political observers here today as a result of Tuesday's congressional election.

As final returns confirmed that the Democratic minority in the senate had been increased by seven votes and in the house by at least 11 votes, politicians talked of the following possible consequences of the Democratic gain:

Victories of three outstanding Democratic governors, Al Smith in New York, Donahy in Ohio and Ritchie in Maryland, have strengthened movements to advance them as Democratic presidential candidates in 1928, with a new leadership of the Democratic party.

The statement of Judge O'Neary, head of Tammany Hall, in New York, that "it looks like Al in 1928," showed how the Smith men are talking as a result of the New York governor's 250,000 victory.

Rumor Butler May Quit

Similarly, the defeat of William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican National committee, in the Massachusetts' senatorial contest, has revived rumors that he might retire as active head of the party.

Final election figures also prompted discussion of what may be done by the next congress on the tariff, prohibition, farm relief and general economic legislation. The lineup shows the senate will stand:

Republicans, 48 (1 vacancy in Maine); Democrats, 47; Farmer-Labor, 1.

With such a slender plurality,

Hunt Ahead In Arizona By 64 Votes

(By United Press)
PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 4.—Result of the gubernatorial race in Arizona remained in doubt today and a recount may be asked to determine whether Gov. G. W. P. Hunt, Democrat, has been re-elected over his Republican opponent, E. S. Clark. With eight precincts unreported, Governor Hunt was leading by only 64 votes.

Carl A. Hayden, Democratic congressman, had a lead of nearly 10,000 votes over Senator Ralph Cameron, a Republican candidate for re-election in the senatorial race, and Lewis W. Douglas, Democratic congressional candidate, won by a big majority over O. J. Baughn, Republican.

The state legislature will be traditionally Democratic.

QUEEN'S FRIENDS AT SWORD POINTS

SEATTLE, Nov. 4.—A controversy between Samuel Hill, sponsor of Queen Marie's visit to America, and Maj. Stanley Washburn, American aide to the queen, threatened today to disrupt the northwest itinerary of the queen.

The breach between the two almost caused a physical encounter at Portland, and last night Hill endeavored to have Washburn put from the queen's special train.

Washburn claimed Hill was without authority to eject him and before Hill could make sure of his ground, the train was on its way to Seattle with all parties concerned aboard.

Hill intends to proceed to Vancouver, B. C., with the royal party, and it is feared that the clash will come to a climax along the way.

The cause of the quarrel in the royal box at the Portland horse show was not explained.

SURPRISE SPRUNG AT MURDER TRIAL

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 4.—Mrs. Anna Hoag, who lived on a farm near DeRusses's Lane, where the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills were murdered, four years ago, testified today that she had heard four shots on the night of the murder.

Mrs. Hoag's testimony introduced new evidence in the state's case against Henry Stevens, who, with his brother, Willie, and sister, Mrs. Frances Hall, is on trial charged with the double murder.

During the testimony, Mrs. Hall sat near her counsel and between Mrs. Edwin Carpenter and Mrs. Sidney Carpenter, her cousins. Next to them sat Willie Stevens and on the other side was Henry Stevens.

Mrs. Hoag followed the description of the firing she had heard with a statement that a year after the murder Henry Stevens, one of the defendants, came to her home and attempted to discuss the case with her.

Dead 8 Minutes, Life Is Restored

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Nov. 4.—A baby, which had been dead eight minutes, was restored to life today by adrenalin, doctors in the Long Island College hospital announced.

The baby, Raymond Siegfried, 22 months old, had been treated for two weeks for a pus secretion near the spine. Today he died.

Eight minutes after the heart stopped beating, it was claimed, Dr. Robert Celley injected adrenalin and massaged the heart muscles. The infant stirred, the heart resumed beating and doctors said they hoped to keep him alive.

PRESS TIME BULLETIN

An unidentified man, fighting the fire raging in the Santa Ana mountains, was burned to death this afternoon, according to word received at the sheriff's office at 3 p. m.

The body has been removed from a place where it was found on a ridge above Silverado canyon and has been taken to the fire-fighters' camp in Silverado canyon.

Coroner Charles Brown left here at 3 o'clock with deputy sheriffs to take charge of the body.

There was no way to determine the identity of the victim late this afternoon. Fear was expressed at the sheriff's office that it may have been one of the county employees who had been rushed to the fire zone early today.

53 DIE WHEN SEA OF MUD FLOODS MINE

Bottom of Swamp Above Workings Drop Out and Men Underground Perish

7 BODIES RECOVERED
Virtually No Hope Held Out for Finding Alive of Half Hundred in Disaster

(By United Press)
ISHPEMING, Mich., Nov. 4.—Seven bodies have been recovered from the Barnes-Hecker iron mine, in which 53 miners are believed to have lost their lives in the worst disaster in the history of Michigan's iron mining industry.

The men were drowned in a sea of mud and quicksand, when the bottom fell out of a swamp above the workings and filled the shaft and levels.

Included among the bodies recovered are those of Capt. William Tippet, underground superintendent of the mine, and William Hill, state mine inspector, who was making an inspection of the workings when the disaster occurred.

Slight Chance of Life

S. R. Elliott, general superintendent of the mine, who is directing rescue work, said there is scarcely one chance in a million that any of the miners have escaped alive.

The quicksand began to pour into the mine shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and in 15 minutes the mine had filled up, allowing the men no time in which to escape.

The bodies that have been taken out were recovered from the sixth level of the North Lake mine, the shaft of which adjoins the Barnes-Hecker shaft. They were found 4000 feet in from the shaft.

Accident Unprecedented

Elliott said he had never heard of an accident similar to the present disaster, as every precaution had been taken to guard against such an occurrence.

The quicksand had to penetrate 250 feet or left over the workings, which was supported in turn by a heavy matting of timbers.

Mine officials were searching the country today for pumps suitable to remove the sand. A large balling machine is to be used in the Barnes-Hecker shaft, but those in charge of the work said they believed it would be of little use and that the sand would have to be shoveled up and hoisted out of the shaft. It is estimated that it will be weeks before the mine can be cleared and the bodies recovered.

ARIZONA QUIZ TO BE HELD IN L. A.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 4.—A final session of the Arizona slush fund inquiry was held here today, and tonight the investigation will be taken to Los Angeles, where additional witnesses will be heard, according to announcement by Senator King, Utah, chief examiner.

Congressman-elect Lewis W. Douglas, Democrat, was called to the stand this morning to testify concerning expenditures in behalf of his candidacy during the recent primary campaign.

Senator King announced that the hearing would continue in Los Angeles until all missing witnesses had been rounded up. Among those sought are Mike Cassidy, former prohibition director of Arizona; Frank May, publicity agent for Senator Ralph H. Cameron, Republican and instigator of the present probe, and Sam Applewhite, secretary to Ames S. Douglas, Arizona mining magnate.

Ferry In Crash At Landing Mole

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—Turning off its course to avoid collision with a scow, the Northwestern Pacific ferryboat Sausalito crashed into the pier at its San Francisco landing mole today, hurling about 2000 passengers from their feet.

The rebound forced the boat back into the bay, where it drifted in the fog for more than an hour before gaining sufficient steam to put back to San Francisco. No injuries were reported.

The bow of the boat was crushed, and all glass aboard was broken.

4 KINGS AND 2 QUEENS SEE HEIR TO THRONE OF BELGIUM AND SWEDISH PRINCESS WED

(By United Press)
STOCKHOLM, Nov. 3.—Prince Leopold, of Belgium, Duke of Brabant and heir to the Belgian throne, today was married by an anti-monarchist Socialist lord mayor to Princess Sophie Louise Thyra Astrid, of Sweden, niece of King Gustave. The ceremony was performed in the throne room of the royal palace, before an assembly that included four kings and two queens.

Lord Mayor Carl Lindhagen, of Stockholm, who performed the brief civil ceremony, annually for some years has submitted a bill to parliament demanding the dissolution of the monarchy. Replying to an interviewer who inquired how he could bring himself to officiate at a royal wedding, Lindhagen replied:

"I have no hesitation in uniting two young folk who really love each other."

Leopold will not see Astrid's bobbed head after this evening, until he nests her in Antwerp, Sunday or Monday, to escort her to Brussels, where a religious marriage ceremony will be consummated, November 10. Tonight, the royal bride and groom will part, each to accompany members of their respective families to Antwerp, although today's ceremony legally made them man and wife.

King Gustave, of Sweden, King Albert and Queen Elizabeth, of the Belgians, King Christian and Queen Alexandra, of Denmark, and King Haakon, of Norway, along with others of lesser nobility, witnessed the wedding, at 4 p. m., and were to participate in the evening's gayety. Five of Europe's reigning kings did not attend.

MITCHELL WINS AS SUPERVISOR BY 130 VOTES

Garden Grove Man Defeats Sterling Price for County Board

John Mitchell, of Garden Grove, will succeed T. B. Talbert as representative of the second supervisorial district on the county board of supervisors.

Mitchell and Sterling Price, of Bolsa, were opponents in the fight and, as returns came in yesterday, the count swung first toward one candidate and then the other, with the final check revealing Mitchell as the winner by a majority of 130 votes.

Mitchell's strength was centered in Garden Grove precincts and in Katella, while Price drew his greatest support from Seal Beach, Talbert, Westminster and Wintersburg.

The two candidates split the Huntington Beach vote about 50-50.

In the district, Mitchell's total was 1693. For Price, it was 1563. Mitchell has been living in the vicinity of Garden Grove for approximately 50 years, and has been one of the active men in the community in which he lives. He is a brother of R. P. Mitchell, county superintendent of schools.

Talbert has been representing the district for approximately 17 years, and for many years has been chairman of the board.

WARRANTS ISSUED FOR 4 PROMOTERS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4.—Bench warrants were issued today for Edward G. Lewis, oil promoter, and three of his associates, indicted by the federal grand jury here for alleged misuse of the mails.

Lewis, who went bankrupt last December, is alleged to have obtained $2,500,000 in personal loans, with practically no security or collateral. It is charged that he represented, among other things, that he was in position to buy controlling interest in various oil concerns.

Lewis was indicted on a federal charge in St. Louis, some years ago, in connection with the founding of University City.

Several months ago, he and a number of associates were indicted here in an alleged mail swindle, based on the promotion of the California Illustrated Review.

DESPOUDENT WIDOW TURNS ON GAS; KILLS SON, SELF

(By United Press)
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4.—Last night's tragedy marks the third of a similar nature in this city during the last month. Mrs. Ada Chamberlain, wife of a prominent attorney, asphyxiated herself and three children a month ago, and Mrs. Lufery Inwood killed herself and her two children in the same manner last Sunday.

Mrs. Brandenberg is said to have been attacked with spells of despondency since the death of her husband, two years ago.

JUDGE ENGLISH LEAVES BENCH TO AVOID TRIAL

Resignation of Jurist Accepted by Coolidge on Impeachment Eve

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—President Coolidge today accepted the resignation of Federal Judge George W. English, of eastern Illinois, district of Illinois, who was scheduled to face impeachment proceedings in the senate next week.

The senate will meet November 10 as scheduled, despite Judge English's resignation, but it is probable the charges will be dropped, in view of the resignation.

Judge English of his resignation, Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, acting chairman of the judiciary committee, said.

Although he could still be legally halted before the senate to face the impeachment charges, it has been customary in the past, when the defendant official resigned in such cases, to abandon trial.

Acceptance of the resignation was announced at the White House after a conference between the president and Representative Michener, Republican, Michigan, and Representative Summers, Democrat, Texas, two of the managers appointed by the house to prosecute English before the senate.

Late returns on the state and congressional offices only served to increase early majorities.

C. C. Young, for governor, was swept into office by a vote which surprised even his strongest supporters.

Young headquarters had predicted 450,000 votes for their candidate but, with less than 200 scattered, sparsely-populated precincts to be heard from, Young had polled approximately 400,000 votes.

Supporters of the Democratic candidate had less than 225,000.

Shortridge Has 485,000

Senator Samuel M. Shortridge was credited with better than 485,000 votes, compared with a probable 275,000 total for John B. Elliott, the Bourbon nominee.

As anticipated, Burton Fitts for lieutenant governor was given probably the largest majority vote, his total of 480,000 snowing under opponents.

The two offices of associate justice of the supreme court, long term, were given to Jesse W. Curtis and William H. Langdon, while John W. Preston, of Berkeley, apparently had won the short term judgeship, ending in 1931.

Supporters of Senator Shortridge pointed out that the probable final majority of better than 200,000 votes over Elliott was the largest majority given the Republican senatorial candidate in any state.

In the senatorial race, the Democrats polled their strongest vote in the southern part of the state, where many of the votes which went to Walter F. Lineberger in the primaries were given to Elliott.

Large majorities credited to the Wright act repeal and in favor of the gasoline tax increase from the San Francisco and other northern California sections, were steadily reduced by Southern California returns.

Los Angeles county, for instance, returned strong majorities against both, while other Southern California counties.

DRY POLL IN SOUTH BALKS LAW REPEAL

Late Returns Disclose Attempt to Cancel Enforcement Statute Is Failure

TABLES ARE SHIFTED

Early Lead Piled Up by North Area Overcome; Gas Tax May Be Lost

(By United Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—California has retained the Wright act, the state's dry enforcement statute. Returns today from the southern part of the state overcome the majority for repeal which the north section had piled up, and swept the tide far toward the side of the dry forces.

The vote count, practically complete, from 7665 of the state's 8512 precincts, gave the standing as follows at 1:30 p. m.:

For repeal, 452,089; against repeal, 48,961.

The dry majority of approximately 45,000 votes bid fair to pass the 50,000-mark before the complete returns are in.

Wet leaders still were confident however, that the final tabulation would give a majority favorable to repeal of the statute, but their optimism was not supported by the figures.

The vote follows a course almost identical to that which resulted in 1922, when citizens of the state sustained the dry act.

That year, when the Wright act was held up by the wets on a referendum from the legislature, the first day's count showed repeal by a 60,000 majority. By the end of the week, when all returns were in, the drys had won by 35,000.

Sees Bigger Majority

Dr. Arthur H. Briggs, head of the Anti-Saloon league, declared even a greater final majority for prohibition will result from the present election.

Los Angeles county at noon stood: For repeal, 128,330; against, 178,426, a dry majority of 50,000 votes.

Fresno county stood: For repeal, 10,883; against 17,124.

Other dry counties in the south and central sections of the state reported as follows:

For Repeal Against
Madera .. 905 1,544
Merced .. 2,885 3,193
Orange .. 4,406 17,733
Riverside .. 2,262 7,298
San Bernardino .. 6,356 14,798
San Diego .. 14,333 19,644
San Joaquin .. 9,178 11,848
Santa Barbara .. 2,658 4,852
Tulare .. 5,019 10,950
Fresno .. 10,883 17,124

The proposed increase of 1 cent on the gasoline tax also fell behind on the face of afternoon returns from the south.

The vote showed 431,254 ballots cast in favor of the tax and 453,618 against it.

If the ratio of negative votes continues from the south, the gasoline measure is doomed, it was admitted.

Late returns on the state and congressional offices only served to increase early majorities.

C. C. Young, for governor, was swept into office by a vote which surprised even his strongest supporters.

Young headquarters had predicted 450,000 votes for their candidate but, with less than 200 scattered, sparsely-populated precincts to be heard from, Young had polled approximately 400,000 votes.

Supporters of the Democratic candidate had less than 225,000.

Ask The Man Who Owns One

PRIEST GUILTY OF MURDER. IS JURY VERDICT

til dead, may God have mercy on his soul."

The dramatic moment of yesterday sent a shudder rippling through the throng that jammed the court, lined the walls and over-flowed into the aisles and beyond the court railing. It brought home, vividly, the meaning of the scenes they have watched so avidly during the last few days. Instinctively they shrank back from what they visioned awaiting the man in the prisoner's dock.

It was a slashing denunciation that Nelson flung at the pale little priest. Goodwin was portrayed as malevolence in the guise of benevolence; a foul murderer, whose defense, Nelson held, had been a web of fabrication, woven with consummate skill.

Refers to Sermon on Mount. Harking back to the Sermon on the Mount, the prosecutor declared that the warning then issued from divine lips still applies to human affairs. It is aptly illustrated, he said, in the case of Philip Goodwin.

"Had the priestly garb of that man truly represented the character beneath, then Joseph Patterson would be alive today," Nelson thundered, with an accusing finger leveled at the priest.

Referring to Goodwin's unshaken story on the witness stand, and his ready explanation of every suspicious circumstance with which Nelson confronted him, the prosecutor maintained that Goodwin's success as a witness was due to his resourcefulness as a liar.

"In all my 30 years' experience as a trial lawyer, I have never encountered a more astute mind; a more colossal liar. I had not cross-examined him more than 10 minutes before I knew I could make no progress with him. I continued my efforts for one purpose—to show this jury just how clever a man it had to judge," said Nelson.

Point and Skill of Actor. Commenting upon the priest's talents as an actor and author, the district attorney charged that Goodwin's plausible account of his association with Patterson and Albert D. Gaines, his co-defendant, was fabricated from the imagination of the author and recited with the poise and skill of the actor.

"But, like the imagination of the author is apt to be, his story is not practical," Nelson declared, whereupon he proceeded to demonstrate, by analysis of the testimony, in just what particulars he considered the priest's story would not bear the test of practical reasoning.

Goodwin's explanation of his connection with forged checks, drawn against the Joseph Patterson account, just before Patterson's murder, and forged stock certificates, belonging to Patterson, just after the murder were recounted by Nelson. In his testimony, the priest claimed to be acting for Gaines in opening the "Samuel Reader" account with the forged check, and in selling the Patterson stock. He said he had opened the Reader account for Gaines, to provide an emergency fund with which Gaines could furnish bail, if arrested.

Would Have Carried Cash. If Gaines had wanted an emergency fund, in order to guard against discovery of his criminal record, should he be arrested, he would have carried the money with him. Then, if arrested, he could immediately post bail and obtain release, said Nelson. Gaines, he said, would take no chance on not being able to communicate with Goodwin in an emergency.

Nelson dwelt at length upon the forgeries of Patterson's signature to the stock certificates and to a letter, written from Tia Juana after Patterson's murder, which letter was signed with Patterson's name. This letter, addressed to Patterson's rooming house, in Los Angeles, was intended to allay suspicion regarding Patterson's disappearance. The forgery of its signature, as well as the stock certificate forgeries, were laid at Gaines' door, by Goodwin.

The prosecution contends that Goodwin was the forger.

The Tia Juana letter was stressed particularly by Nelson.

"The person who wrote that letter is the person who committed the murder," he declared.

Claims Goodwin Wrote. That Goodwin wrote it, was proven unmistakably, in Nelson's opinion, by the circumstance of the way in which the name Tia Juana was called. That was "Tui Juana," Nelson called attention to another letter, admitted to have been written by Goodwin to Gaines, in which the name Tia Juana was misspelled in the same way. That one bit of evidence, Nelson argued, was sufficient to prove the priest's guilt.

More evidence, he contended, was furnished by the testimony that Goodwin received the lion's share of the spoils from Patterson's murder. The Reader account, and the proceeds from the sale of Patterson's stock, went to Goodwin, it was claimed.

"It is a safe assumption," said Nelson, "that the person who receives the proceeds of a crime is the person who committed the crime." The district attorney disdained more than brief reference to the long argument presented to the jury yesterday morning by Defense Counsel Kitt Gould, who made bitter attacks upon the veracity and good faith of the prosecution.

"After mature consideration, I decided not to answer the defense statements," said Nelson. "I am going to merely throw the mantle of charity and silence over it, and let you take it for what it is worth," he told the jury.

Analyzes Conflicting Stories. Reviewing the entire association of Goodwin, Gaines and Patterson up to the time of the murder in Santa Ana canyon last March, and analyzing the conflicting stories of Goodwin and Gaines, Nelson presented his conclusions that pointed positively, he said, to the guilt of Goodwin, though the prosecutor said he would concede that the state's star witness, Gaines, was "tarnished with the same criminal brush as Goodwin."

But the story of Gaines, told after his arrest, and repeated in court, had been corroborated and substantiated by official investigation, said Nelson, while that of Goodwin, he said, had not, and could not stand the light of reasoning.

Near the end of his address, Nelson produced the heavy iron hook which the state claims served as the death weapon. Holding the weapon in both hands, the prosecutor demonstrated his theory of how the fatal blows had been struck, that crushed the skull of Patterson.

The district attorney completed his address just before court adjourned. This morning, Judge E. J. Marks launched immediately into the reading of instructions to the jury.

MAJORITY GROWS FOR WRIGHT ACT

nia counties did likewise. Apparently the reapportionment plan, No. 28, the federal plan, was due for approval, while No. 20, the "Los Angeles plan," which opponents said would give that county unduly heavy representation in the state legislature, was defeated.

No Change in Other Measures. No changes in the lineup of the other important measures were apparent in late returns.

Five thousand veterans will secure new homes, due to the passage of that bond measure; there will be no tax on oleomargarine; legalized race-track betting has been turned back; salaries of state officers will remain the same; the state highway improvement plan, sponsored by the Southern California Automobile association, which northern California said would unfairly divide road construction funds, was overwhelmingly defeated; bonds for new university and state buildings were adopted; the state water-power measure was downed again, and there will be no compulsory Bible reading in the public schools.

SCENARIO WRITER COMMITS SUICIDE

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 4.—The body of Roy L. Mankers, 45, prominent scenario writer and for several years president of the Palmer Photoplay corporation, was found in the bathroom of his home here today, under circumstances which led authorities to announce he had committed suicide.

Friends of Mankers said he was in ill health and that he had been threatening for several days to kill himself. Mankers' widow found the body beside the gas heater, which had been turned on. The scenarioist had been dead, apparently, since last night.

The body was taken in charge by the coroner and an inquest was ordered.

DISADVANTAGE TO REPUBLICANS SEEN

Including many independent Republicans who will work with Democrats, there does not seem much possibility of passing any administration measures opposed by the Democrats. The lineup of the house will be:

Republicans, 237; Democrats, 195; Farmer-Labor, 2; Socialist, 1. This majority, safer than the senate will enable house Republicans to nullify at least some Democratic legislation which may slip through the senate.

Women Quit Fag In 'Bobber' Shop

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—One of the largest women's bobbing shops in New England has ruled that women may smoke no longer while getting their hair cut, marcel or "facial." The proprietor of the shop took a vote among 1000 women and found that only 42 wanted to smoke while in the barber's chair.

A. T. Riley, manager of Schlusser's in the Grand Central building, received a telegram yesterday from Theodore Schlusser, head of the company, advising him that the Santa Ana branch by selling 102 Maytag washers during the month of October had won one of the two outdoor electric signs offered for sales volume. The local branch divided honors with Pasadena where Schlusser's sold 104 Maytags. "Our showing," said Riley, "is a good criterion of business conditions in Santa Ana. Considering the difference in population between our city and Pasadena, the comparative showing of the two branches gives the honors to Santa Ana."

ADDRESS ON 'CRIME' HEARD BY OFFICERS

Dr. Paul E. Bowers, former superintendent of the Indiana state penitentiary, was the principal speaker at the monthly meeting of the Orange County Peace Officers' association, held last night in the Fullerton Ebell clubhouse.

Many officers were present at the meeting in spite of the fact that many of the sheriff's deputies and other members from the southern section of the county were fighting the forest fire in the Santa Ana mountains.

Dr. Bowers addressed the officers on "Crime and Criminals," telling many of his experiences with crime during his career as a public officer. Captain of Detectives Jack Bean, of the Los Angeles department, also talked to the officers.

The question of purchasing more accident insurance for members of the organization was discussed, but no vote was taken on the matter, it being suggested that the question be put to a vote at the December meeting.

Last night's meeting was preceded by a dinner, served by the Fullerton Ebell club. Entertainment was presented under the auspices of the Fullerton police department.

VICTORY OVER RAGING BLAZE IN SANTA ANA MOUNTAINS IS WITHIN GRASP OF FIGHTERS

At noon today heavy smoke was rolling up from a point on the north ridge of the burned-over area, indicating that the flames had broken out afresh and had penetrated the line between the upper end of Harding canyon and the upper part of Silverado canyon. Within an hour, however, the smoke had decreased.

Victory today was within the grasp of the several hundred begrimed and weary firefighters who, since Sunday morning, have been combating the flames in the canyons and on the ridges of the county's hinterland in the vicinity of the old home of Madame Helene Modjeska.

In making this statement, J. E. Elliott, supervisor of the Cleveland National forest, said that he did not wish to be too optimistic, but if ordinary weather conditions prevail today, he said that he felt he could predict that the flames would be entirely under control by late tonight. Two weeks of mopping-up by a force of 150 men will be required before all danger of the fire breaking out again is passed, he added.

As soon as the mopping up process is completed, steps will be taken to bring the man who started the fire to a speedy trial in the Orange county courts, it was said.

Danger From Erosion
As the efforts of the fire fighters to check the blaze apparently were being crowned with success, Elliott pointed out that 30 years of brush growth will be required to replace the natural mantle of the mountain sides, which the fire of this week removed. The damage to the watershed cannot be estimated and the danger from erosion will be present for years to come, according to the forest supervisor.

The fire started Sunday morning, on the Hathaway cabin site, owned by a Los Angeles insurance man, a half-mile above Modjeska's. With a desert wind from the east, the flames were driven down on both sides of the Modjeska resort and they mounted the ridges on both sides of the canyon. Several cabins and the pavilion at Modjeska's were burned, but the old Modjeska home escaped.

Swept To Fields
Westward, the fire swept clear to cultivated fields northeast of El Toro and along the San Joaquin foothills to Tomato springs. A change of wind, Sunday night, drove the flames back into the rough mountains. A stubborn fight was made Monday and Tuesday against the progress of the fire toward Silverado canyon. In that direction the flames were stopped at Williams canyon and Tuesday night the line held on the upper ridge between Harding and Silverado canyons, stopping progress to the north. Tuesday morning, the fire jumped the road near Williams canyon and burned an additional area in the San Joaquin hills.

Ordinarily mountain fires die down at night. But Sunday and Monday nights the fire burned over wide areas and were whipped by changeable winds through an area practically inaccessible.

In Devastating Sweep
Fire fighters on the southeast side held the flames from going down Live Oak and from their path toward the Trabuco, but no human agency could stop the fire in its devastating sweep up Harding canyon toward Santiago peak, until after White Cross canyon, an arm of the Santiago, was passed. Tuesday night the fire died down and yesterday the fire fighting lines were tightened and fresh men were sent into the fastnesses of the upper Santiago.

The fire did not reach any part of the Trabuco. Elliott and J. B. Stephenson, forest ranger, will stay on the job until the flames are out. Stephenson has been on the fighting line since an hour after the blaze was discovered.

The forest supervisor took occasion to thank the Orange county supervisors and Sheriff Sam Jer-nigan and his assistants for the splendid co-operation extended in fighting the fire. He also extended his thanks to forestry officials of other national forests and Southern California counties for their voluntary assistance in curbing the flames.

Smart Little Dinner For Birthday of Miss Whitney

Miss Justine Whitney, Orange county recorder, was honored guest Tuesday evening at a pleasant little dinner in honor of her birthday anniversary which occurred last Sunday. Mrs. Olive Lopez being hostess at Ketter's.

Lavender and white chrysanthemums in baskets were the flowers utilized, and after dinner the party returned to the home of Mrs. Lopez at 801 East Fifth street, where 500 and the new game of Michigan were enjoyed.

Besides Miss Whitney and Mrs. Lopez, those present were Mesdames Cora Schwind, Emma Van Dusen, W. J. Schenberg, Miss Rae W. Chase, Miss Rosa Gustlin, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Young and Horace Fine.

Community Players Will Meet Tonight

Santa Ana Community Players anticipate the November social meeting tonight at The Barn as an opportunity to hear some of the recent verse of one of their talented writer folk, Miss Beulah May.

A selection of some of the newest things written by Miss May including some that have been accepted recently by various magazines, will be read by one of the Players, as the entertainment feature of the evening, according to announcement made by the general program chairman, Arthur E. Collins.

A number of important matters will be discussed in the business session led by the Players' president, Lynn Crawford. Also several announcements bearing on the program of winter productions, will be made.

Y. W. to Hold Social Evening

All members and friends of the Young Women's Christian association are urged to be present at the Y. rooms in the Masonic building, tonight, when one of the three big events of the year will be held, a general social meeting with special program.

Each year, the Y.W. entertains at a spring tea, a mid-winter banquet and an autumn social evening, such as tonight's affair. The program will begin at 7:30 o'clock. A trio composed of the Misses Helen McPeak and Georgie-Belle Walton, violinists and Mary Bruner, pianist, will play and Miss Beatrice Granas will give piano solos.

The remainder of the evening's entertainment, will be a surprise which can be learned only by being present, stated Miss Nancy Elder, Y.W. secretary.

The football game between Annapolis and University of Pennsylvania, formerly one of the prominent annual fixtures on the gridiron, is to be resumed next season after a lapse of five years.

EVANGELIST STARTS DRIVE FOR SECOND DEFENSE FUND

Mrs. McPherson Will Insist On Early Trial in Superior Court

(By United Press)

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4.—Facing trial by a jury on charges of perjury and conspiracy, Aimee Semple McPherson today launched a drive for a second "fight-the-devil defense fund." The evangelist expects to raise an additional $100,000 to fight the accusations against herself and mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, having already expended that amount in defending herself during a preliminary hearing. Of this amount, $25,000 already has been raised, Mrs. McPherson told the United Press today.

The evangelist declared she was rejoicing at the opportunity to have her case heard before a jury. "It will mean ultimate and complete vindication for us," she said.

Will Demand Early Trial

Mrs. McPherson and "Mother" Kennedy will be held under $2500 bail each until the trial begins. Under the law, the defendants have a right to demand a trial within 60 days, and the evangelist declares she will insist that the proceedings get under way as soon as possible.

An additional charge of subornation of perjury has been added by District Attorney Asa Keyes to the accusations of perjury and conspiracy to commit perjury contained in the original complaint against the Angelus temple leaders.

Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman, third co-defendant and star state's witness, will be tried jointly with the evangelist and her mother. Mrs. Wiseman, however, plans to plead guilty and ask for her freedom from turning state's evidence.

1 to 14 Years in Prison

Penalty for conviction is from one to 14 years in prison on each of the three counts, or a total probable sentence of three to 42 years.

After Municipal Judge Samuel R. Blake ordered the evangelist and her associates bound over to superior court, Mrs. McPherson charged that the district attorney had "withheld important evidence" and made "vicious and untruthful statements" to "influence the decision of the judge."

She referred to Keyes' announcement of the preliminary hearing containing a trunk which the prosecutor declared was filled with bed-room finery belonging to Mrs. McPherson, and which it was asserted Kenneth G. Ormiston, missing radio operator, had taken cross-country to New York City.

Clothing As Evidence

The trunkful of clothing, and a fervent love letter, which Keyes claims was written to Ormiston by the evangelist, are to be used as evidence against Mrs. McPherson when she and her mother go on trial in superior court.

District Attorney Keyes announced today that he plans to have Ormiston in court when the trial of Mrs. McPherson and her associates is called. The prosecutor said he would go before a grand jury and have the radio man indicted, eliminating the necessity of a preliminary hearing. Ormiston is jointly accused with the evangelist on the conspiracy and perjury counts.

TWO MEN INJURED WHEN CARS CRASH

Two men were slightly injured at 7 a. m. today, when automobiles, driven by M. Ramsey, 519 East Fourth street, Santa Ana, and Chris Uris, 8532 Ellison avenue, City Terrace, collided on the San Diego highway, near Williams' corner.

The accident was said to have been due to a heavy fog, which hung over the road.

The men injured were Paul Sothoff and Pete Cornoff, Los Angeles, who were riding in the Uris machine. They were brought to Santa Ana by Deputy Sheriffs Adams and Roberts and given medical treatment, after which they were able to return to their homes. No arrests were made.

News in Town

Her Hair Fairly SPARKLES Now!

The woman who knows what to do after waving her hair doesn't fear the effect of hot irons. Nor of frequent washings. A few drops of Danderine—on comb or towel—and the hair is soft and lustrous, and behaves beautifully.

A bit of Danderine rubbed lightly into the scalp, is the one sure way to dissolve every particle of dandruff. But a few drops more make a dressing that is simply marvelous. A sheen that rivals brilliantine, and no grease!

Any permanent wave or water wave lasts much longer and looks much nicer when Danderine is used instead of water to "set" the wave.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

United Presbyterian

The Women's Missionary society and the Ladies Aid society of the United Presbyterian church met Wednesday in the church parlors. The Aid society met at 10:30 and a comfort was tied, and luncheon served at noon.

The Missionary society was called to order at 2 p. m. by the president, Mrs. M. M. Tidball. A report of the social meeting held last week at Mrs. A. J. McFadden's when the Hustlers entertained the Rustlers, was given by Mrs. Stewart Kennedy. Reports from the Presbyterian rally held last week in Los Angeles, were given by Mrs. W. H. McPeak, Miss Minnie Cowan, Mrs. Anna Scott, Mrs. T. C. Elsie, Mrs. William Smart, and Mrs. Herbert Walker.

The society voted to send a Christmas box to the Indian reservation in Oregon.

The nominating committee reported the following names for the officers for next year: President, Mrs. W. H. McPeak; vice president, Mrs. W. H. Herring; secretary, Mrs. Fred Miller; treasurer, Mrs. J. T. Raitt; thank offering secretary, Mrs. O. S. Johnson; temperance secretary, Miss Martha Smith; Little Light Bearers, Mrs. C. C. Denbar. After these officers were elected, the devotional service was led by Mrs. T. C. Elsie.

The subject for the program was "Prayer in India," and was in charge of Mrs. Herbert Walker. Mrs. L. A. Endrus read a paper on "The Place of Prayer in the Indian Church." Mrs. O. S. Johnson spoke on "Possibilities of Prayer." "The Church of India" was the subject discussed by Mrs. Walker. Mrs. June Smiley's subject was "The Mohammedan Prayer." "The Missionary's Prayer Life" was given by Miss Myra Gibson.

A vote of thanks was given the retiring officers. The next meeting will be held in the evening and the men will be guests.

First Presbyterian

Forty members of the southeast section of the Ladies Aid society of the First Presbyterian church and several visitors were enthusiastic today over the delightful meeting and entertainment provided for them yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Spencer, 113 Halladay street.

The living rooms were filled with warm-hued dahlias artistically arranged, and after a short business session during which 135 calls were reported, the program was turned over to the efficient chairman, Mrs. Albert Schultz.

Mrs. M. R. Wolfe gave an interesting reading entitled "Landing of the Pilgrims," being attired in appropriate costume, and Mrs. L. B. Hill pleased with two readings in humorous vein, "Uncle Abner's Quiet Evening" and "Ma and the Auto."

Much merriment was caused in attempt to guess "who was who" from the childhood pictures of the women present, ages varying from eight months to eighteen years.

Mrs. L. B. Pearl and Mrs. Walter Vierra guessed fourteen of the eighteen photographs and were awarded a huge tuber of the Irish variety, dividing the trophy.

Groups for refreshments were formed by means of five kinds of luscious looking fruits, Mrs. George Spencer, the hostess, leading in singing before the committee served trays holding pineapple, Bavarian cream, doughnuts and coffee.

The committee was composed of Mrs. Albert Schultz, Mrs. M. R. Wolfe, Mrs. R. M. Forster, Mrs. P. G. Beissel, Mrs. Carrie A. Porter and Mrs. George Spencer.

When the Yale bowl was completed only a few years ago, so tremendous was its size that it was thought it would never be filled. Now it is found totally inadequate to accommodate the crowds seeking admission to the bog football games.

D. of A. R. Council In Los Angeles

Of particular interest to members of Santa Ana chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, are the plans for the next meeting of the Southern Council of the California Daughters, which will be held Tuesday, November 16, in the assembly room on the second floor of the Alexandria hotel, Los Angeles. Among the members of the council, will be Mrs. Alice Hill Hatch of this city, director of the Council, and former regent of the local chapter.

The Council is composed of state officers of the southern district, chapter regents, or in their absence, the vice regents may serve; state chairmen and vice chairmen, and any officers or chairmen of the National Society, D. A. R., who are chapter members in California. The session will open at 11 a. m., and will be presided over by Mrs. Jesse R. Shreve of San Diego, state regent.

At 1 o'clock in the ballroom there will be a luncheon open to members and their guests. Arrangements are under the efficient management of Mrs. Lillian K. Floyd, 1187 North New Hampshire avenue, Hollywood. Reservations for this luncheon shall be made in all cases with chapter regents and chapter chairmen. Tables will be reserved for state chairmen and chapter chairmen. Tables will be reserved for state chairmen and chapter chairmen.

At the speakers' table, presided over by the state regent, Mrs. Shreve, will be the following members of state executive board: Mrs. Emmet H. Wilson, recording secretary; Miss Marion A. L. Ricker, corresponding secretary; Mrs. William N. Beech, treasurer; Mrs. C. D. Merrill, auditor; Miss Helen C. Wing, registrar; Mrs. Morrison E. Merriam, historian; Mrs. Harry B. Payne, librarian; Mrs. Alice H. Hatch, director; Mrs. Lyman B. Stooke, vice president general; Mrs. Cassius C. Cottle, past vice president general; Mrs. Charles B. Bothe, past vice president general, and past state regents Mesdames W. W. Stillson and M. F. Thayer. Mrs. G. B. Winn, state chairman of patriotic education, will be the principal speaker of the occasion.

Immediately following the luncheon program, there will be a meeting of the state executive board. Since the dedication of the auditorium, Constitution hall, in Washington at Continental Congress, interest of the Daughters all over the country is centered there even more than before. But not alone are members watching progress. So well known is the work of this organization the world over, their beautiful white marble building completed in 1910, has become one of the chief objects of beauty and interest to foreign as well as American tourists visiting our national capital. Memorial Continental hall will in no way be supplanted by this new auditorium, but will continue to be used as before.

The National society issued bonds for the new auditorium to the amount of $1,000,000. These bonds were sold through the various chapters last year and were oversubscribed. It is the desire and request of the organization to raise the remainder of the other $1,000,000 in gifts this year. This is the real work of the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution at this time.

The National society has planned three ways of giving this fund: Gifts outright, as was done by many when building project was first launched; by giving $1 per cubic foot for the land upon which the building is to be erected, every donor to have name engraved on a scroll which will be placed in corner stone of Constitution hall; gift of 4000 chairs at $150 per chair. Each chair will have a bronze tablet on which an inscription containing 100 letters will be allowed.

The name Constitution Hall was chosen by Mrs. Anthony Wayne

Domestic Arts Club Meets in Honor of Former Member

Planned as a greeting to a former member, Mrs. R. H. Chapin of near Barstow, was the recent meeting of the Domestic Arts club at the home of Mrs. Charles L. Johnson, 421 South Broadway.

The members assembled at 1 o'clock, each bearing a delicious contribution to the surprise dish menu. Mrs. Johnson had arranged small tables with dainty linens and centered each with marigolds and other autumn flowers in golden tints.

The afternoon was devoted to needlework and chat and a happy reunion, since Mrs. Chapin has been absent for several months and had returned from her mountain ranch home to spend a few days visiting among her close friends.

Several former members of the club whose homes are now in other cities, were bidden to the reunion, among them, Mrs. R. R. Miller of Whittier, Mrs. Edward H. Hummel of Beverly Hills, Ethel Troxell Thompson and LaRue Fippis Mayer of Los Angeles. Others bidden to enjoy the happy affair with hostess and honoree Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Chapin, were Mesdames John Sexton, W. N. Williams, C. S. Skirven, W. A. Gerrard, Paul Johnson, William A. Thompson, A. Y. Napier, Charles Hosea and her cousin, Mrs. Johnson of Colorado; Mrs. T. P. Kingrey and her sister, Mrs. A. W. Smith of Florida.

Young Hostess Joins Her Party Guests En Masque

Miss Hilda Ravenkamp was charming young hostess to a group of her former schoolmates recently at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Ravenkamp, 702 East Fifth street.

Miss Hilda and her house guests, the Misses Florence and Thelma Sweeney, who are classmates at St. Joseph's academy, Anaheim, achieved a beautiful effect with their Halloween decorations of orange and black streamers, Halloween elves, miniature witches, black cats and bats, which with the shaded lights and the grotesque garb of the guests, made a thrilling scene.

Not even the young hostess was known, as she entered the front door and was welcomed by the ghost together with the others of the masked company. Her friend, Miss Florence Sweeney, gave the guests a "cold" welcome.

All sorts of merry games were played and after unmasking the Misses Lucille Ireland and Claude Norton were given prizes for the most effective costumes. The weanesses, Irene Ravenkamp and Barbara Borchard, garbed as baby doll ghosts, served the refreshments of Halloween ice cream and cakes with grinning faces. Those who enjoyed the jolly party, besides the hostess, included the Misses Helen Norton, Estella Roelands, Rachel Smith, May Maag, Lucille Ireland, Mary June Naylon, Vera and Alice Pierson, Alice Borchard and Florence and Thelma Sweeney; Claude Norton, Walter Markel, Lawrence and Bernard Hauptert and Alfred Borchard.

Cook, past president, N. S. D. A. R., under whose leadership the idea of building a new auditorium originated and under whose administration such wonderful progress was made.

Santa Ana Artistes Win Plaudits at "Our Village"

"In a setting as exquisite as the songs of their program, Holly Lash Visel and Ione Tunison Peek, made themselves a part of the atmosphere of Laguna Beach when they appeared before the Woman's club of the Artists' Colony and bewitched their audience with music and artistry," declared Marion Munson Forrest of "Our Village" in discussing the costume recital which two of Santa Ana's favorite artists presented there recently.

"Mrs. Visel, soloist, and Mrs. Peek, pianist, each formed the half of an interesting and unique grouping of numbers of unusual worth," continued Mrs. Forrest. "Gowned appropriately to depict the country from which the music sprang or the period in which it was written, both were picturesque indeed."

The opening number was a short group of piano poems done by Mrs. Peek in her own inimitable fashion and with a masterly expression and technique. "Les Hirondelles," "Les Maillottines" and "Les Fiftes" formed her group, for which she was crowned in a quaintly charming old Provencal costume.

Quaintly charming too, was Mrs. Visel for her first song group for which Mrs. Peek remained at the piano. Eloquent of grandmother's day, was the singer in a rose-petal pink whose sweeping skirt was fanned into a tight-fitting bodice with lace bertha. A black velvet ribbon with roses above each of her pretty ears, contrasted her black hair. "Jubal's Lyre" was her first number, followed by the sweetly romantic "Amaryllis" and that in turn by "Grandma," a humorous bit which proved the singer's dramatic ability as well as her vocal.

Mrs. Peek in Russian peasant frock with brilliantly embroidered sleeves, played "Dumka" (Tschalkowsky) a tone poem of Russian village life. The composition is really orchestral in its treatment and was played magnificently.

The two artists then presented a song group of modern numbers for which Mrs. Visel was crowned in jade green with rhinestones, and Mrs. Peek in a Paris gown of black metallic brocade embroidered in gold. Especially brilliant were the songs and their musical backgrounds. "The Lamplighter" and "The Luxembourg Gardens" by Kathleen Lockart Manning and "Carnival" by Fourdrain comprised the group.

"Gold Fish" and "Claire de Lune," two of Debussy's most modern compositions were then played brilliantly by Mrs. Peek, with that finish and smoothness which distinguishes her piano work.

The program was brought to a finish with "One Fine Day" from Puccini's "Madam Butterfly" for which both soloist and pianist donned handsomely embroidered Japanese kimonos. Mrs. Visel seemed especially at home in the dramatic possibilities of "Butterfly," and the recital came to a close amidst a burst of enthusiasm.

The Beach critics felt that both artists might be assured of an enthusiastic reception wherever they presented one of their charming costume recitals. "Mrs. Peek's splendid interpretations of the masters of composition, both modern and of an earlier day, and Mrs. Visel's lovely voice and unquestioned dramatic ability, will undoubtedly meet with the success they so richly deserve."

The house committee of the Woman's club, had designed a stage setting for the recital, which was thoroughly in keeping with the charmingly costumed numbers, offering a resultant picture that was quite as satisfying to the eye as the music was to the ear.

Costume Carnival Is Staged in Gardens Of Walters Home

That friendly hospitality for which Mr. and Mrs. Henry Walters are noted and which so frequently delights their friends, was extended again early in the week when they presented a costume party at their home, 1001 North Barton street.

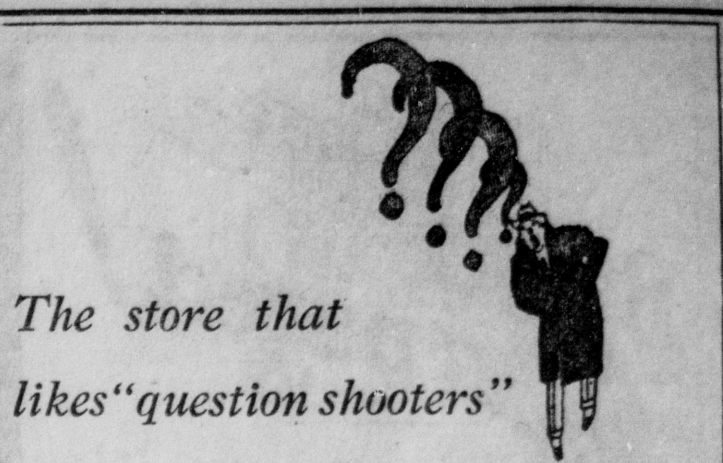

The Walters gardens are among the outstanding beauty spots of the city, and it was there that they staged the opening of their most recent hospitality, greeting the guests and announcing an opening grand march.

This was led by Mrs. Jessie Overton, in the makeup of a little "darky troubadour," strumming a banjo as she tripped through the winding paths of the garden, leading a motley crew of merry-makers. Prizes for the cleverest impersonations and costumes, went to Mr. and Mrs. Edmund O. Enlow and Mrs. Elmer Thompson, who represented "Ormliston, Aimee and Miss X," Mrs. Verda McClain and Mrs. Myers as "Mutt and Jeff," Mrs. Overton as the colored boy, and J. H. Gallagher as an awkward country lad.

The gifts were such pretty things as a boudoir doll, silver vases for the women and pongee handkerchiefs and leather card cases for the men. Similar attractive gifts rewarded the winners in each of the evening was devoted. For after the grand march through the brilliantly lighted garden and the merriment incident to guessing identities, the hosts led the way into the drawingroom of the home where fifteen tables were in readiness for court whilst, with an extra small group of tables for those who preferred bridge.

Mrs. Rachel White, Roy Parker, George Bronner and G. F. Ludlew were among the fortunate players making special scores and rewarded with attractive gifts similar to those awarded the prize winners in the costume contest.

At a late hour, Mrs. Walters assisted by a few of her guests, served a hot tamale supper ending with pumpkin pie and coffee.

WOMEN GUESTS AT MEETING OF TOASTMASTERS

About 50 men and women were present last night at the meeting of the Toastmasters' club, at the Y. M. C. A. C. E. Hawk acted as toastmaster. The program had been arranged in compliment to the women.

In extending "Greetings to Our Guests," Clyde W. Rowland said that woman was made from the crookedest part of man and had developed into the best part. The Toastmasters' club could not function without the aid of the women, he said, and added several other remarks along the same line of thought.

California has every attraction of any other state in the union and work in this state is as plentiful and remunerative as in any other state. Ridley Smith remarked, in speaking of "Why I Would Rather Live in California than Anywhere Else."

"The Advantages and Weaknesses of Compulsory Education" was the topic on which W. S. Kellogg spoke. The wonderful wealth of "orange county in beans, beeches and beets, oranges, lemons and oil was fully described by C. N. Grace.

Italy was going to the "bad" after the war, when Benito Mussolini stepped in and ruled affairs with an iron hand, thus saving the nation. H. W. McAlleen said, in discussing "Mussolini, the Dictator."

Ralph Smedley, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., made a brief talk in which he thanked the club for its support of the Wright act in the recent campaign.

DRY ACT REPEAL WOULD NOT LEAVE STATE HELPLESS IN ENFORCEMENT, SAYS NELSON

Repeal of the Wright act, if accomplished at yesterday's election, does not leave California at the mercy of the bootlegger. Enemies of prohibition will have scant excuse for rejoicing, though the final count may show that the enforcement measure has been wiped off the statute books.

This was the statement today of District Attorney A. P. Nelson, discussing the question of prohibition enforcement in the possible absence of the Wright act.

"Orange county and any other county or city simply will be required to enact ordinances covering the ground now covered by the Wright act," said Nelson.

Answers All Questions
That single statement is believed to answer all of the numerous questions that have arisen. The questions related mainly to what the legal effect of the repeal would be and what the state would do about enforcing prohibition.

"The only disadvantages in the loss of the Wright act in those communities where dry opinion rules," said Nelson, "is that the county and various cities must act separately in passing legislation designed to take care of the situation. Where the Wright act covered the entire state with blanket law and blanket enforcement methods, the enforcement machinery would be cut up into units of the individual counties and cities. The Wright act gives state and county officers authority to enforce the liquor laws inside of incorporated cities. That power is gone if the Wright act is repealed. But the cities can enact their ordinances and the counties can enact ordinances covering territory outside of the cities. The chief disadvantage may be in lack of uniformity in enforcement laws adopted by the various counties."

Patterned on Wright Act
Such ordinances may be patterned upon the Wright act, which itself was a counterpart of the Volstead act, Nelson said. Orange county had such an ordinance, passed in 1921, shortly after Nelson took office as district attorney. The ordinance automatically was repealed when the Wright act became effective. New action toward re-passing of the ordinance would be necessary, if the Wright act is repealed and the county desires to replace it with an enforcement act, said the district attorney.

With such an ordinance in effect, Orange county officers would have all the powers given them under the Wright act, except inside of the incorporated towns. Inside of such incorporated cities, local police could be equipped with similar powers by adoption of city ordinances.

The state supreme court had upheld the validity of ordinances patterned on the Volstead act before the Wright act became a law, Nelson said today.

and fighting fires in the San Bernardino National forest during the fire season from July 1, 1926 to October 30, and 448 acres of land was burned over by fires during the same period, according to records of the forest service announced yesterday. The unusually large number of tourists visiting the forest this year caused a proportionate increase in the number of fire traces to be careless, the records show, and caused the large outlay required to prevent and fight flames.

BREWSTER TO SELL MOVIE MAGAZINES

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4.—Sale by Eugene V. Brewster of his five movie magazines was scheduled to be consummated here this afternoon. The prospective purchasers are L. E. Wheeler-Reid, publisher of Hollywood Life, and F. A. Ritter-Brown, Los Angeles, capitalist.

"The negotiations have been under way for some time," Wheeler-Reid said. "The addition of the magazines will make Los Angeles the motion-picture magazine publishing center of the country."

The Brewster magazines are valued at $500,000. They are Motion Pictures, Motion-Picture Monthly, Motion-Picture Classics, Beauty and Shadowland. Brewster, it was said, will retire. He was married in Ensenada a week ago to Corliss Palmer, film actress and former Macon, Ga., cigar-stand girl, less than 24 hours after obtaining a Mexican divorce from his New York wife, from whom he has been estranged for several years.

SAN BERNARDINO—First shipments of Southern California's navel orange crop will be packed this week by Cleghorn brothers, of Highland, who will ship two cars of fruit from ranches in the East Highlands and West Highland district. The first two cars of the season's crop have been sold on a basis of $5 per box and will probably be consigned to Canada, it was announced by John Cleghorn. Another shipment, probably consisting of three cars, will move next week and has been sold for $4.75 per box.

GLENDALE—Surveys that have just been completed here, covering the past three months, show that the volume of mail handled by the Glendale postoffice during that period has increased 28 per cent in volume and 42 per cent in weight over the previous three months. Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson reported today. The survey was made at the request of John H. Bartlett, first assistant postmaster general. The parcel-post delivery in the city also showed an increase of 30 per cent during the three months covered by the survey. The congestion that is steadily increasing in the local post office will be relieved to a certain extent by the opening of the new station at Brand boulevard and Fairview street, but the growth of the mail service in the city is so rapid that it is considered ample justification for pressing the request that has been made to Washington for a Federal building in Glendale.

EL CENTRO—The Imperial valley's first carload of winter vegetables was shipped from Brawley yesterday by S. J. Gallagher, consigned to Chicago. The shipment consisted of a mixed lot, mostly cucumbers and peas, with a number of other products in a smaller volume. Other shipments are to follow within the course of the next few days, it was announced. Experiments conducted in the Imperial valley during the past several months by Dr. Milbraith, plant pathologist, has definitely disclosed that a remedy for mildew, which caused such a great loss in the cantaloupe fields last spring, has been found, and that it will be a matter of only a short time until the method will be actually demonstrated in the growing fields and explained to the growers.

RIVERSIDE — School officials today were preparing to embark on a $1,050,000 construction program made possible by the successful passage of the junior high school and junior college bond issues. Responding to the second call within five months, the voters of Riverside swept the two issues to victory by margins which, if not overwhelming, at least were decisive. Unofficial figures revealed that the high school issue of $850,000 carried by a vote of 3213 for and 1020 against, or a margin of 391 more than the necessary two-thirds majority. The junior college bond issue of $200,000 was victorious with 461 votes to spare, the unofficial count standing 3287 for and 952 against.

Fresh air without rain or drafts

WITH characteristic initiative, Studebaker engineers have solved the long-neglected problem of closed car ventilation.

In the new Studebaker Custom Cars, a unique, patented windshield eliminates all possibility of stuffiness from smoky or vitiated air, of acrid engine odors, of chilling drafts, or of discomforting rain sprays showering driver or passengers.

Waterproof Ventilation at Last Perfected

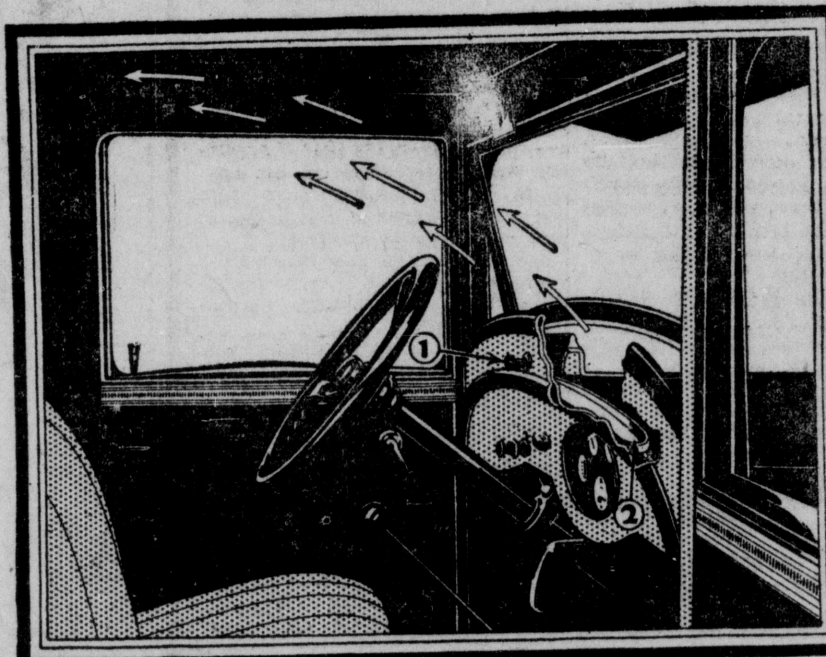

Set for stormproof ventilation, this Studebaker windshield admits outside air in a controlled current, but carries off the rain through cleverly designed troughs beneath the cowl.

In other closed cars, during rainy weather, it becomes necessary to close the windshield, cowl ventilator, and windows to prevent rain from entering. Shortly the atmosphere becomes close and muggy. Windshield and windows become steamed, obscuring vision to an extent oftentimes dangerous. Quite in contrast is the rush of clean, sweet air which abounds in the Studebaker Custom Cars under all weather conditions, by reason of the patented Studebaker no-draft windshield.

Elderly people, mothers of young children, and women who are often lightly dressed for social engagements will particularly appreciate this no-draft windshield. Men can now enjoy smoking without annoyance to other occupants, because the air is constantly renewed.

Easily Adjusted by the Turn of a Handle loosen and tighten again—no stopping to reach up to the top of the car. A convenient handle, right on the dash, sets the windshield at any position desired.

Custom Completeness at No Extra Cost

This no-draft ventilating windshield is typical of the completeness of the new Studebaker Custom Cars. Their external beauty, resplendent in lustrous duotone lacquers, is matched by interior luxury, with more than $100 worth of extra equipment without extra cost.

All Studebaker Custom Cars have the following equipment: No-draft ventilating windshield, exclusively Studebaker; front and rear bumpers; engine thermometer and hydrostatic gasoline gauge on the dash; coincidental lock; oil filter and air purifier; automatic windshield cleaner; rear-vision mirror; traffic signal light; 4-wheel brakes; full-size balloon tires; and two-beam acorn headlights, controlled from steering wheel.

Science Endorses Studebaker Hygienic Ventilation

"I have analyzed carefully the system of ventilation which you have adopted for your Custom Cars and find it thoroughly efficient. At ordinary speeds the air will change completely every five minutes. I know of no other windshield which equals this for scientific ventilation."

Prof. J. D. HORMAN of Purdue University, Past President, American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers.

"Your no-draft ventilating windshield not only adds considerably to the comfort of driving, but gives a definite protection against the ills caused by riding in a draft. Fresh air is one of the greatest benefits of motoring. This device insures a constant change of air yet eliminates the exposure to direct drafts in cold or blustery weather. I believe it to be a decided reform from cowl or open windshield ventilation."

Dr. CHAS. J. WHELAN, Past President, Illinois Medical Assn., Editor, Illinois Medical Journal.

"The new windshield ventilating system is ideal. Its 'overhead or underfoot' selective feature is excellent for the avoidance of the disagreeable drafts to which one is subjected in most cars; and its rainstorm ventilation is a triumph. No more hot, stuffy cars during showers!"

Dr. B. STUART RALSTON, 303 Neville Street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

"The ventilating system in your new Custom Sedan through the use of a no-draft windshield, was such a revelation to me that I felt duty-bound as a physician to endorse it. To the best of my knowledge it is the finest windshield and best ventilator ever put on a motor car."

PACIFIC COAST DEVELOPMENT TOLD CHAMBER

Pacific coast development in all lines of agricultural, industrial and commercial activity, brought about by unity of action, co-ordination of effort and a closer co-operation between all concerned, held the stage last night at a joint dinner meeting of the Greater Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce and the Santa Ana Junior Chamber of Commerce, with Irving E. Vining, past president of the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce, Portland, as the principal speaker.

Clyde C. Downing, president of the senior chamber, presided over the meeting, which was held at St. Ann's Inn. The affair was attended by close to 150 members, including a large number of prominent business and professional men. Vining was introduced by John Harvey, personal friend of the guest of honor.

Audience Is Impressed.
So impressed was the audience with the message delivered by the Oregon chamber official, picturing the future possibilities of the Pacific coast, that this morning the Santa Ana chamber sent the following telegram to W. G. Ide, president of the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce, Portland, Ore.

"Last evening we listened to a wonderful speech by your Mr. I. E. Vining on the subject of Pacific coast unity and development. Our chamber heartily indorses his ideas and wishes to be numbered as one which will gladly co-operate in the development and advancement of the entire Pacific coast and in promoting a closer relationship between our citizens. We wish to congratulate you upon the wonderful lure of your state. The picture, as painted by your representative, will certainly be the means of inducing more of our people to visit your great north-west."

"Signed,
"C. C. DOWNING, president.
"G. A. RAYMER, secretary."

Prosperity For Coast
Emphasizing the need of co-ordination of effort on the part of all concerned, the speaker pointed to four major projects, which, when brought to a realization, will spell prosperity to the entire Pacific coast. These are the Colorado river improvement project as a whole; the Sacramento river and the San Joaquin river improvement project; the Columbia river basin irrigation project, and the Rio Grande irrigation project.

Describing the benefits of these undertakings, Vining painted a vivid picture of millions of acres of arid and desert land turned into beautiful orchards; of increased population, distributed over new cities and rural communities; of additional transportation facilities; of increased commercial activity and overseas shipping. The development of almost unlimited hydro-electric power will attract industries from all parts of the country, he predicted.

Urges Support of Chamber
Speaking further, he urged the business men not only to support its chamber of commerce, but to take an active part in its various activities. The chamber of commerce is, and should be, the clearing house of all community activities, the buffer between the various branches of the government and the citizenship at large, he asserted.

He warned his listeners against the self-satisfied community, with its state of apathy and indifference to development and improvement. Self-satisfied groups and individuals, following the line of least resistance, are a stumbling block in the path of progress; their indifference often leads to retrogression, inefficiency and poor management of public affairs.

He also deplored the apparent lack of co-operation between communities in the same section of the country, or in the same county, which frequently leads to petty jealousies and misunderstandings, not to mention the defeat of worthwhile projects submitted to the vote of the people.

Capital Letter

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, the veteran pure food man, is not going to have the public's edibles adulterated if he can help it.

He did help it once, away back in the early 80's, when, as chief chemist for the department of agriculture, he raised such a commotion over food adulterants that the country was almost afraid to eat anything. And the present pure food laws were passed in hot haste, to prevent wholesale starvation.

He kept up the good work for 29 years, still as chief chemist for the department of agriculture, enforcing those laws. Now, as a private citizen, he is trying to keep his beloved laws from being modified.

The trouble with the public, as Dr. Wiley sees it, is that it's had pure food for so long as to take it as a foregone conclusion, never realizing that it takes laws to keep it pure.

And the doctor foresees an attempt at the next session of congress to slip through legislation which will weaken his laws. The public, he says, isn't awake to the danger.

Director Walter G. Campbell of the agriculture department's pure food administration agrees with Dr. Wiley.

"The great danger," says Director Campbell, "is that public apathy and a feeling of assurance in the continuing wholesomeness of our food-stuffs may permit interested manufacturers and packers to render the whole structure of pure food enforcement weak and ineffective."

Director Campbell isn't so much afraid of harmful preservatives as of adulterants and substitutes.

Sterilization and hermetic canning have made such progress, he explains, that there is no longer such a great inducement to use such preservatives as benzoate of soda and sulphur dioxide. Food manufacturers themselves have lost faith in them.

But for liberty to use adulterants and substitutes in which there's a profit the pressure is increasing enormously. And the public, at present, is correspondingly indifferent.

Dr. Wiley, however, wants the spotlight on benzoate of soda and sulphur dioxide. He thinks it just as well that they should be banned, even if they are no longer quite as popular with producers of food-stuffs as they used to be.

Alum and saccharine also are emphatically included in the doctor's Index Expurgatorius. They're on Campbell's likewise.

Saccharine interests, according to the latter, are behind at least one bill to hamstring pure food enforcement, while seven big baking powder companies are campaigning to discredit the finding of Examiner

Averill, of the federal trade commission, that alum has not been proved to be harmless as a food ingredient, but that there are "substantial grounds" for believing it harmful.

So, with one voice, Dr. Wiley and Director Campbell cry out that the public needs to be stirred up on the pure food subject, or, before the public knows it, there'll be no laws to keep its food pure.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

In last Friday's Register, The American Woolen Mills issued a statement that their great 2-FOR-1 SALE was at an end. I wish to state now that I cannot stop. The enthusiastic acclaim accorded our SENSATIONAL FREE SUIT OFFER has been far too great for me not to realize that I have got something the public want. Through your wonderful help by creating the enormous sales volume I have conquered the greatest item, "overhead," and I have brought the price down to a level where every man can wear TAILOR-MADE CLOTHES. You, whom have already taken advantage of our wonderful offer know and realize that this great 2-FOR-1 sale is genuine, but for the benefit of those who are skeptical I am going to offer from now on—

100 DOLLARS REWARD

This will be given to any man who can prove that he has not been offered either a suit or overcoat, tailor-made, absolutely FREE OF CHARGE with each suit purchased for $37.50 and up. This reward is being offered from tomorrow on for the benefit of those who don't think this offer possible and to prove conclusively that this sale is absolutely genuine.

Friday and Saturday the American Woolen Mills Will Offer Again An Extra

SUIT or O'COAT

FREE

with each suit purchased in their GREAT TWO-FOR-ONE OFFER. Think of it! You get two suits of equal value—both made to measure, —guaranteed to fit, and your choice of over 145 patterns (especially procured at "rock bottom" prices for this event).

GENTLEMEN:—

There is "no nigger in the woodpile." This offer is absolutely bona fide. I stand ready to verify the veracity of every statement I make. The vast resources behind this organization and the facilities for creating a tremendous sales volume have made this offer possible. In increasing my business 500 per cent, I have been able to base my margin of profit 5 times lower than the ordinary merchant. In other words, I can be content with 20 per cent of what the small merchant makes and yet give the customer a suit of better standard.

Let it be understood that I make a legitimate profit on the first suit and none on the second. The steady increase in my business, the VOLUME, VOLUME, VOLUME is one of the main reasons that absolutely permits me to give you TWO SUITS FOR THE PRICE OF ONE, and at the same time, I positively guarantee to give you the same quality of fabric and workmanship just as if you were paying the price of both suits. The excellence of both garments is maintained. Your suits will be made up of the finest fabrics available. They will be trimmed with the very best of linings. The very highest standard of workmanship shall be installed to insure a perfect fit and finish. I WANT YOUR FUTURE BUSINESS and that can only be forthcoming if I make you a SATISFIED CUSTOMER.

AND UP ON OUR GREAT TWO-FOR-ONE OFFER

Our Cash Buying Power

—has enabled me to give you a strictly HAND-TAILORED suit or overcoat, made to your INDIVIDUAL MEASURE and GUARANTEED TO FIT, greatly below that of any of my competitors, including "hand me downs." In this HISTORY-MAKING TWO-FOR-ONE SALE you are given your unrestricted choice of either a suit or an overcoat or two suits of equal quality and the PATTERNS DO NOT HAVE TO BE ALIKE.

To further convince the skeptical, let me add that I have leased this storeroom from Mr. H. H. Helbush for a coming period of five years. I am here to stay and to "smash" and "hammer" the prices of clothes down to fit every man's purse.

A PERSONAL WORD FROM MR. COLMAN

Each and everyone of you by gathering in large numbers, at a given time to buy, are largely responsible for this gigantic offer. I don't have to figure a large profit, as is the case of the small merchant. In fact I am basing my business on the smallest possible margin. Because of the creation of a big volume of business, I take less profit on the first and original suit and no profit on the second. With your co-operation by appearing in large numbers and we doing our part with our cash buying power, low rent, and unpretentious quarters, and the benefit derived from a quick woolen "turn-over," and the host of new customers gained through this advertising feature, is it any wonder we make this gigantic offer. Absolutely two suits for one price and over 145 new patterns to select from at $37.50 and up. I don't ask you to take my word, but I do ask that if you are a prospective buyer for the future, if you are figuring on a suit or overcoat soon, step in to the American Woolen Mills tomorrow or Saturday and convince yourself. A full and complete line of the season's latest fabrics await you. Fit is positively guaranteed.

That you may thoroughly understand without reason of a doubt, how and why I make this gigantic offer, I beg of you to read every word of this ad and be convinced. This sale starts tomorrow. Come early

Sincerely,

"BUD" COLMAN,

IDEAS and Ideals

Orange county harbor enthusiasts, it is believed, will have a better chance of putting the proposed harbor improvement project through when next it is presented to the voters. It is pointed out that the development program will have the earnest support of several large concerns which have recently identified themselves with Orange county by the purchase of property. While these large interests have acquired holdings in various parts of the county, the greatest help from new sources will naturally come from the groups of wealthy and influential men who have announced their intention of developing the Orange county coast line. With unlimited funds available and with the best brains in Southern California at work, there is no reason to doubt that the proposed coast developments will be entirely successful, even without the harbor, but the development of Orange county harbor will be directly beneficial to the other coast projects, and will therefore have the support of all interests concerned.

Announcement by the Pacific Electric officials that an adequate passenger and freight station is about to be built in Santa Ana, has other significance than the mere erection of another building in town. It expresses belief on the part of a very large and far-reaching corporation, that Santa Ana is destined to become a city of importance in the general run of Southern California events. It also indicates that Santa Ana is creating sufficient freight and passenger traffic to justify the company's consideration, and the improvement of its property, to take care of continued growth.

Although no official announcement has been issued, it is generally understood that the state engineer's office has found nothing impractical in the proposed Prado dam project, as outlined by the Lippincott survey and report of nearly a year ago. A new question has arisen, however, to which the county supervisors are now giving their attention—the question as to whether or not Orange county can go beyond her border and build a dam in Riverside county, without a special act of legislature. Engineers investigating the feasibility of the proposed dam are reported to be making satisfactory progress. If no legislative action is required, the supervisors will probably be able to place the big water conservation plan before the voters at an early date.

Hollywood Masons Are to Build Home

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 4.—A new $150,000 Masonic Temple, a home for the Two-Thirty-Two club—Masons engaged in the motion picture industry—will be erected here, according to an announcement by Edward Davis, president of the organization. The building, 12 stories high, will be situated in the heart of Hollywood, at the corner of Hollywood avenue and Vine street. Ground will be broken in the near future, according to Davis.

Published each week in the interests of the people of Santa Ana and vicinity by the Barr Lumber Company.

George E. Hatfield Mr. Hatfield is one of our cabinet makers whose skill is the result of the accumulated experience and practice of his 18 years of service here. Mr. Hatfield says his strongest recollection of his first days in Santa Ana is riding his bicycle through the mud on East Fourth St. This is a far cry to the well lighted boulevard of today. Mr. Hatfield is one of the nine men who have served in our organization for more than 15 years. Next week we shall introduce Thomas Daniels.

The residence of Dr. Charles V. Doty 420 West Walnut St. is undergoing considerable alteration just now. Good building materials are being furnished by the Barr Lumber Co. and the work is being supervised ably by R. R. Lutes, the builder. Among other things an attractive attic playroom has been thoughtfully planned.

What recollection does this recall—"so is your oleomargarin?" Only one guess.

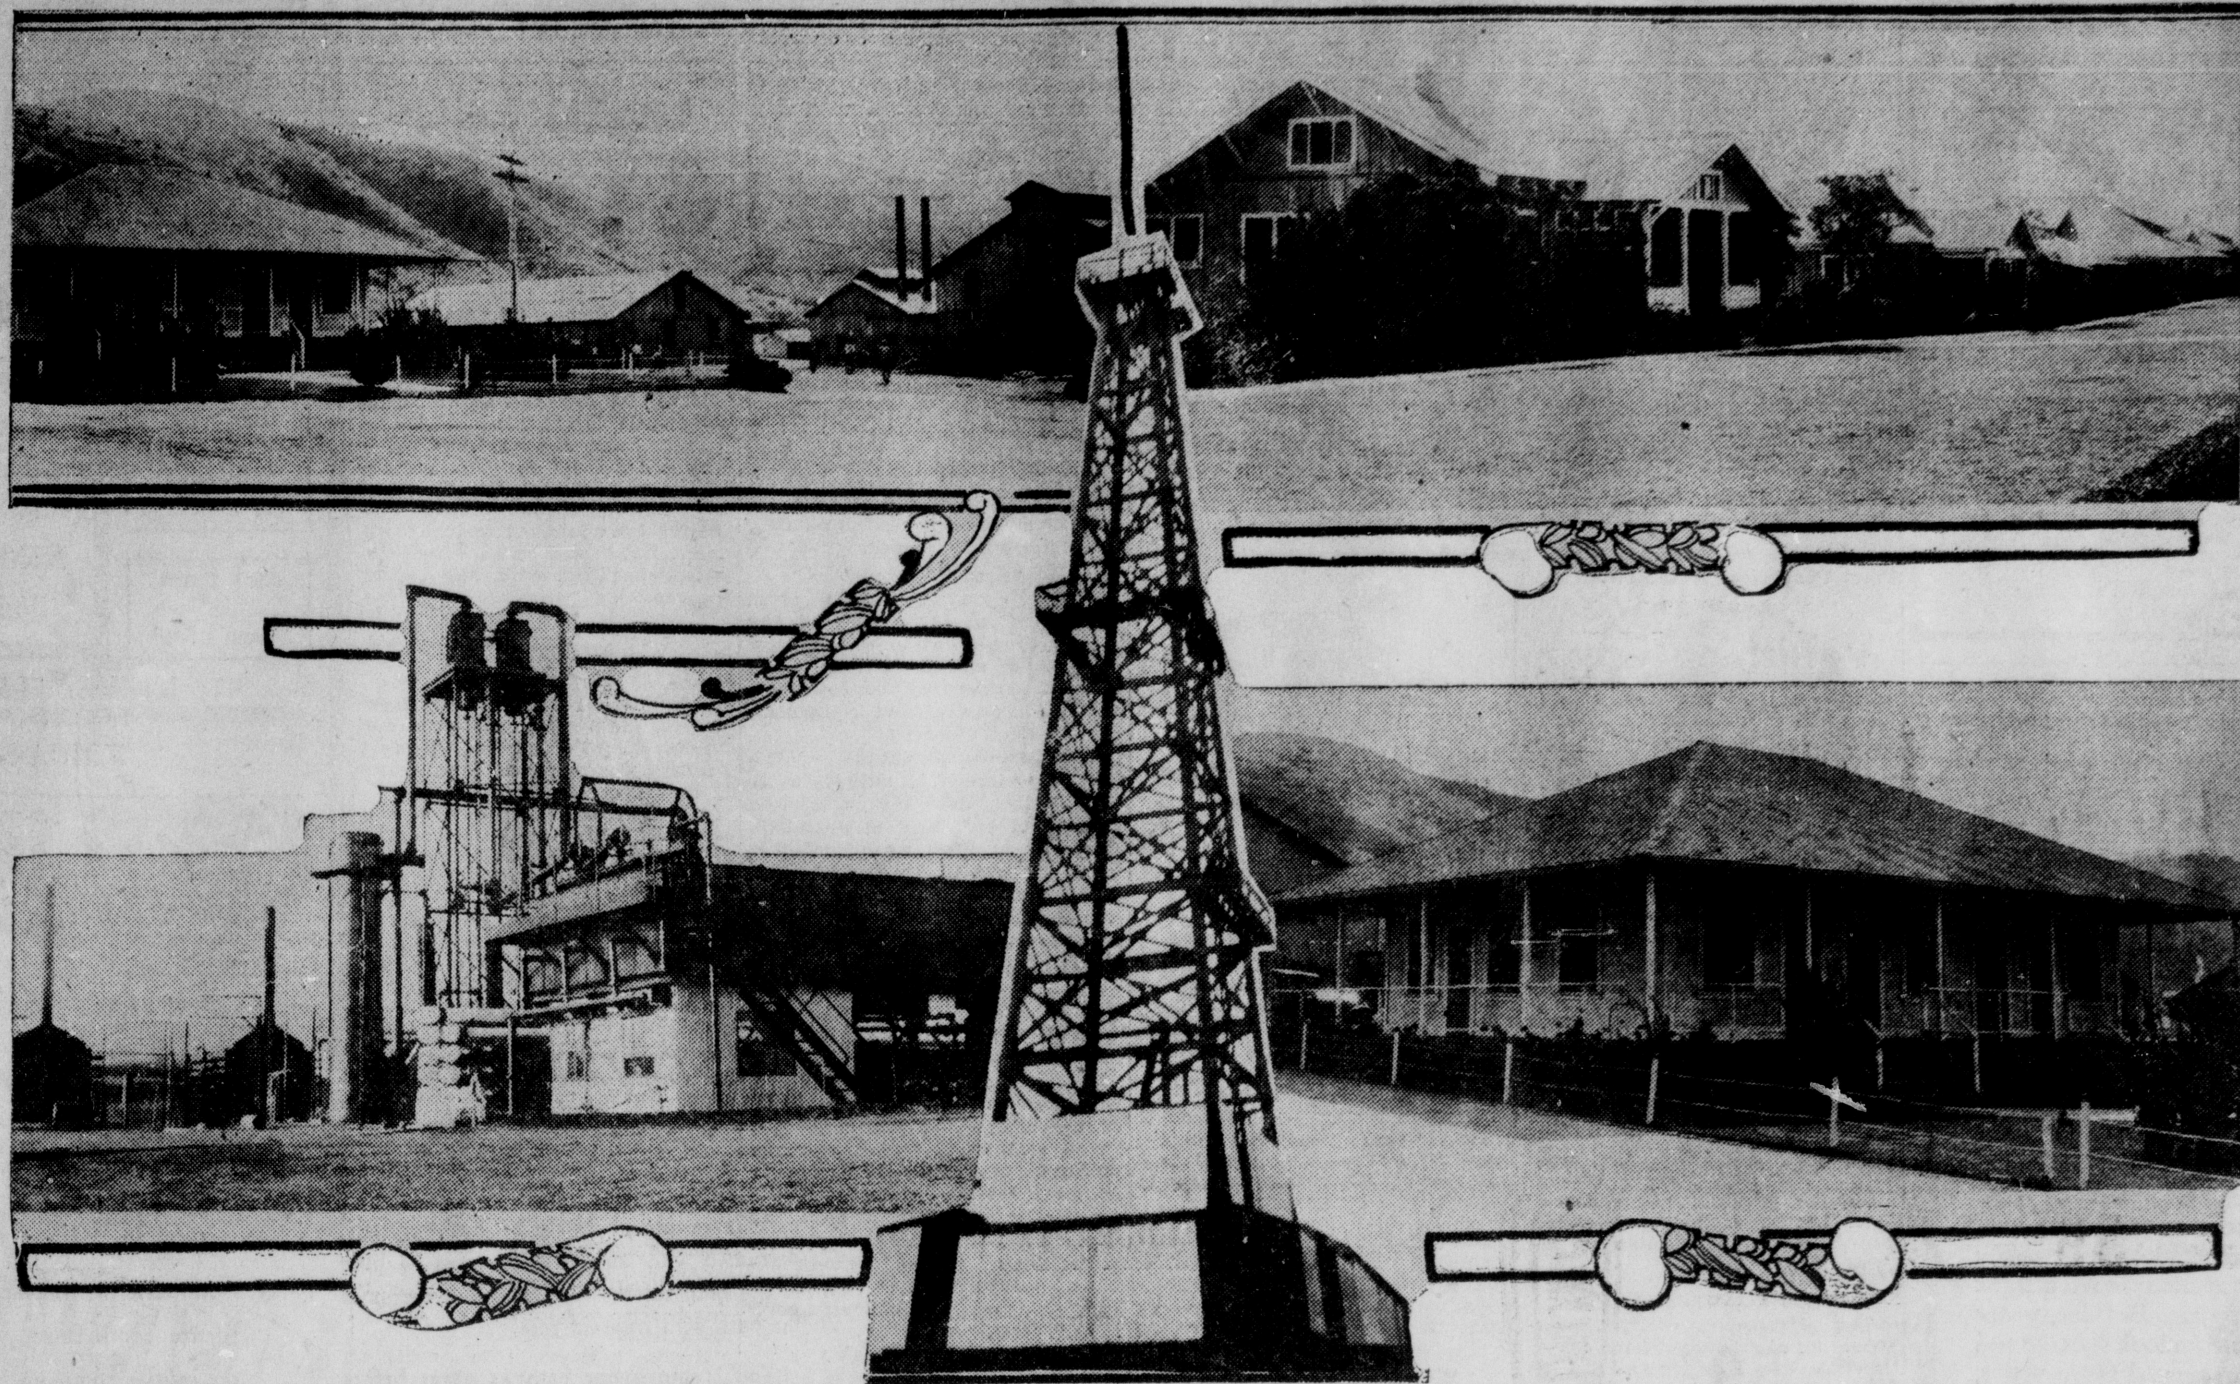

To be consistent regarding the Community Chest, sit down some evening this week and list the names of the organizations included in the Chest and the amount you would like to contribute to them severally. Add up these amounts and be ready to report the total as your contribution to the Chest for the ensuing year. And do it with a smile.

NEWPORT, CORONA DEL MAR ROADS WILL BE BEAUTIFIED

Beautification of the city of Newport Beach, started some time ago by residents of Corona Del Mar, has extended to Newport Heights. City trustees recently inaugurated plans which will result in the beautification of the parkways and roads of both Corona Del Mar and Newport Heights.

The improvements will cost about $3000 in the Newport Heights district and about $6000 in Corona Del Mar. The city trustees have instructed City Engineer Paul Kressly to draw plans and specifications for the improvements. Under the plan proposed by the trustees, roadways and parkings of the two districts will resemble miniature parks.

According to Kressly, the improvements will add greatly to the general appearance of the district. The money will be well expended, he believes.

Dixon Moves to Prevent Further Auto Fatalities

DIXON, Calif., Nov. 4.—Dixon, scene of a crossing accident between an auto and a train last month that snuffed out nine lives, has devised an elaborate system of safety warnings to prevent a recurrence of such tragedies.

Large aluminum warning signs will be erected at the two railroad crossings here, and will flash out in bright red lights the words "Crossing—Caution" intermittently. The signs will be 5 by 8 feet, and will be hung over the middle of the highway on each side of the crossing, where they may be seen for a long distance. No plan has been agreed upon for building a west side connection to the state highway entering Dixon from the north and south. The proposed system of warnings will make the town as well protected at crossings as any in the state, it is believed.

BROADWAY TRACT BUILDING ACTIVE

The sale of lots and the building of new homes in the North Broadway Park tract continues active, according to a statement today by Freeman H. Bloodgood, who, with John A. Newcomer, is agent for the tract.

The purchase by John O. Reed, of the Orange County Bond and Mortgage company, of lots 6, 7 and 8, located on Riverside drive, recently consummated, has resulted in building operations being started on a two-story residence to cost approximately $14,000.

Robert E. Moore, recently of St. Louis, Mo., has started construction work on a $10,000 Spanish stucco type residence, the building being erected on lot 4, North Park boulevard, and adjoining on the south the home of J. A. George.

Mrs. Alice A. Yount has acquired a residence on Heliotrope drive, through an exchange of her property at 844 Van Ness to Allison Honer. In the consideration, the Van Ness property was valued at $4000 and the Heliotrope drive residence at $10,500.

WARD LINDLEY TO BUILD $8500 HOME

Eighty-five hundred dollars will be spent by Ward Lindley, of 708 Hickory street, in the erection of a residence and a garage at 2410 North Park boulevard. The dwelling will have eight rooms. The contract is held by Honer, Herzog and Farney.

J. E. Rickman, of 900 South Van Ness street, will build a seven-room house and a garage at 1338 South Broadway at an expenditure of $5500. E. C. Rogers is the contractor.

Five thousand dollars will be spent by A. J. Mansur, of 1106 Hickory street, in the erection of a dwelling and a garage at 2438 Heliotrope drive.

Julia N. Drake, of 417 East Bishop street, will construct a seven-room house and a garage at 211 East Seventeenth street at a cost of $3500. The contract is held by Justus Birtcher.

A six-room dwelling and a garage will be erected at 2009 Greenleaf by Roy Russell, of 214 West Third street. Construction will be done by day work.

800 OIL WELLS PRODUCING IN NORTH END OF COUNTY

In northern Orange county, five major oil companies, besides others with smaller leases, are producing oil. That so many are in an area of a few miles is held to be unique in the oil industry.

Altogether, 13 companies have holdings in the Brea and Richfield districts. The distinction that Orange county holds of being the richest county in the world for its size is due in part to the wealth extracted from the oil basins.

Employment for hundreds of men is furnished by the drilling operations and the work that is connected with tending to the wells.

In each field, small camps, that are in themselves little communities, have been built up for the workmen. These camps are kept attractive. Pretty landscaping is to be noted about the homes. The field headquarters of the companies are erected with consideration to the architectural design.

The five widely known companies having holdings in the north of the county are the Standard, Union, Shell, General Petroleum and California Petroleum. Other companies are the Chanslor-Canfield-Midway oil company, Fullerton Oil company, Birch Oil company, Brea Canyon Oil company, Continental, Wonder Oil company, Olinda Land company and the West Coast company.

There are more than 800 producing wells in the Brea-Olinda, Richfield and Coyote Hills fields, it was learned from the bureau of mines. The production from these wells varies from 1000 barrels daily down to 20 or even 10 barrels daily. From the latest available figures, the total production was about 52,000 barrels daily of the black gold. The deepest well in the world, now at a depth of more than 8000 feet, is located on the property of the Chanslor-Canfield-Midway Oil company in the Richfield district. Nearly 200 wells are drilled in the section and the average production is 75 barrels daily, according to the bureau of mines.

The richest field, from the point of the average production, is the Coyote hills lease, held by the Standard. There are 225 good producing wells producing an average of 90 barrels per, it was said.

The Brea refinery that was destroyed in the fire has been rebuilt. The reduction plant of the General Petroleum corporation, located in Brea canyon is another plant that was recently completed for operation.

DEWY REPORT COBB HAS QUIT DETROIT

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 4.—Frank Navin, president of the Detroit Tigers, today denied reports that Ty Cobb had resigned as manager of the club.

"At present Cobb's status with the club is the same today that it was when the season closed," Navin told the United Press. "We have not received any resignation and there is nothing further to say."

According to the report, Cobb was slated to be succeeded by George Moriarty, American league umpire, and former member of the Tigers.

Crockery Battle Ends When Store Of Cups Fades

MARYSVILLE, Calif., Nov. 4.—The battle of the cups and saucers, waged in Marysville by two enterprising merchants, has been declared a draw.

And Marysville is stocked with cups for a decade. It all started when R. E. Lance was dressing his store windows, putting in a special sign showing cups and saucers at 5c each. Someone pointed out that a competitor nearby advertised the same line at three for 10 cents.

Not to be outdone, Lance put in a sign, "Two for 5 cents." The competitor, countered with "One cent each," and Lance came back with "Two for 1 cent."

Finally each merchant put up a sign "Free—take one while they last," and the battle ended, for lack of ammunition.

AVERAGE COST OF DWELLINGS IN S. A. $4114. RECORDS SHOW

Community Ranks High on Cost in Construction of Attractive Houses

GRANT 176 PERMITS DURING 10 MONTHS

Dwellings Built Here Are Valued at $724,230 by Inspector W. S. Decker

The average cost of single family homes built in Santa Ana during the first 10 months of this year was $4114, which, according to W. S. Decker, is an exceptionally high average.

There were 176 permits issued, aggregating $724,230 in value.

Inspector Decker points out that the average cost here exceeds that of a great many communities on the coast. The average cost of homes in Los Angeles is around $3000, he stated.

"These figures demonstrate conclusively that the dwellings erected in this city are of the better class," Mr. Decker declared. "Santa Ana has always been known as a home city and the records show that this is true."

"There are not many communities of the size of Santa Ana that can boast of such a high average. One of the first things that a stranger notes on arriving here is the attractive residences."

Incidentally, Mr. Decker declares that there are very few vacancies in Santa Ana at the present time, practically all houses being occupied almost immediately after being finished.

The dwelling record by months is as follows: January, 21 permits, $81,000; February, 21 permits, $81,650; March, 30 permits, $93,700; April, 15 permits, $80,200; May, 21 permits, $91,850; June, 9 permits, $46,000; July, 17 permits, $64,770; August 7 permits, $31,000; September, 20 permits, $93,560; October, 15 permits, $54,500.

S. A. Police To Oppose Redondo In Pistol Shoot

Santa Ana police officers will go to Redondo next Tuesday to stage a pistol match against the crack shooters of the Redondo team, according to E. W. Howard, captain and ace of the Santa Ana squad.

Several dates have been set for a return match between the two teams, but until the present time, neither date was acceptable to the other.

Santa Ana defeated Redondo in the first match several months ago. Those who will go to the beach city to represent the Santa Ana officers will include E. A. Hershey, Harold Jaynes, Earl Lentz, E. E. Perry and F. W. Howard.

Louis is John C. Drain, who since 1914 has been arrested 123 times on various charges.

Winning By a Point

Two great university football teams are playing a championship game. They are well matched. 75,000 people stare, hope, fear and yell like mad. First one team then the other win points. It is a day that thousands will ever remember. Heroes of this day will live long.

The end of the game draws near. Keener, tenser, more dramatic grows every action.

Signals are given. The losing side is in possession of the ball. Then, action! Contacts are heard all over the field and into the remote corners of the vast coliseum. Rome's greatest were side shows to this premier gladiatorial event.

Listen to that deafening shout! Hear that walling overtime. There is a score. The loser has evened the points. Now, now for the cool skilled conversion to add the extra point and win. And WIN!

It's done! We win! We win!

..... That's the tire business exactly. Converting the dollar into winning tire miles. Did we do anything less we deserve to lose. That's our winning point.

AT THE THEATERS

Scene from "BIGGER THAN BARNUM'S"

A scene from "Bigger Than Barnum's," current attraction at the West Coast-Walker theater.

Pola Negri, appearing in the film, "The Crown of Lies," film playing at the Yost Broadway theater.

WEST COAST-WALKER
The picturesque, colorful, ever-absorbing atmosphere of the circus, an open sesame to boy and girl life ever since the first glass swallower started munching on the family tumbler, envelopes "Bigger Than Barnum's," the picture now at the West Coast Walker, with an aura that is the last word in entertainment. Added to all the charm and thrill of the big show itself, there is a powerful dramatic story written by Arthur Guy Empey which has as its sensational climax the rescue of old Peter Blandin, a high wire artist, from the burning hotel, when his son walks across the swinging cable stretched 15 stories above the street and carries his father to safety.
Viola Dana, Ralph Lewis, Ralph Ince and George O'Hara make a quartette of stars that is seldom equaled in one production. Ince directed the picture, in addition to investing the heavy role with a new comedy slant that is distinctly refreshing, and the whole production reflects great credit on the producers.

The stage entertainment is comprised of several acts especially selected by Fanchon and Marco, including Dorothy Kelley, the Carsens, "Arkansas" Charlie, and Edythe Maye, all centering around Way Watts and his band.

MURPHY'S COMEDIANS
"His Cave Girl," a western comedy-drama in four acts is playing this week at Murphy's theater at Orana.
The play is typical of the great open spaces, way out west where men are men and "tenderfoot" suffer.
"His Cave Girl" is full of romance and comedy with just enough western "gun play" mixed in to make it exciting. It is one of the biggest successes of the season and is proving quite a box office attraction at the Orana house.

YOST BROADWAY THEATER
From a drab boarding house in America to a glittering palace abroad and then back again to a rose covered cottage in America, this is the journey, replete with incidents of hazard, heartache and happiness, that Pola Negri takes in "The Crown of Lies," which is showing at the Yost Broadway theater.
The direction is most commendable, giving evidence of the subtle ideas and adroit effects for which Dimitri Buchowetzki is known. Credit for a highly skilled performance must be given Noah Beery, dean of screen villains, who in the role of an exiled foreign nobleman, goes into the business of "selling a queen" to his country, the real queen having disappeared following a revolution.
Miss Negri, of course, is the pseudo queen. She is in reality an immigrant girl in America who aspires to become a great actress. And because of her remarkable resemblance to the missing queen she gains a throne.

YOST THEATER
With less than a week's respite from her work in "Shipwrecked," Seena Owen began her portrayal of the title role in "The Flame of the Yukon," opening tonight at the Yost theater.
In the former she portrayed a young woman whose longing for men drive her to the brink of suicide. In the latter she portrays a woman whose existence depends upon her ability to attract the sterner sex.
To make these women human and interesting, Miss Owen made a psychological analysis of the emotional reactions and mental motivations of women of both types, who have figured in historical dramatic episodes in fiction.
As a result of her study, Miss Owen has brought to the silver sheet two gripping characters of apparent sincerity and fidelity to nature. Arnold Gray plays op-

Engineer Cressy Praises Tanlac
Fermentation, Bloating, Nervousness and Indigestion Relieved. Health Restored. Gains 26 Pounds.
"Tanlac did me so much good that I have been boosting it whenever I could," says E. Cressy, 959 Ellis St., San Francisco, a well known electrical engineer.
"Stomach trouble was the seat of my trouble. Whatever I ate did not digest. It would lie in the pit of my stomach and ferment, cause gas that bloated my stomach and pained me. Often this trouble was so bad I could hardly breathe. I was always constipated and lost weight fast. Of course I was nervous at night. I never slept soundly.
"Then a lady advised me to take Tanlac. I did, with wonderful result. It relieved all stomach trouble, gave me an appetite, cleansed my system of constipation and built up my strength. I have gained 26 pounds since taking Tanlac. And never felt better."
Take Tanlac for better health, for strength. First bottle shows amazing results. At your druggist's. Over 40 million bottles sold.—Adv.

THE PEOPLE'S VERDICT
Editor Register: The election is over and so far as Orange county is concerned you can always depend upon the electors to DO the right thing, AT the right time, and IN the right way.
The people had nothing against Jim Livesey, for he's a "hail fellow well met," but they thought it was only justice to give the grand old man at the court house a last term to officially round out his splendid public career. That was the reason his candidature triumphed at the polls Tuesday.
Orange county has reason to be proud of its county and municipal officers, and not the least worthy among them is the veteran, J. C. Joplin, which his troops of friends will heartily endorse.

DEVELOPMENT OF AVIATION IS TOLD KIWANIS

Development of commercial aviation in the United States not only was preceded but engendered by the exploits of the air service during the war, achievements which provided the possibilities of air transportation, according to Maj. C. C. Moseley, formerly of the U. S. army air service, now assistant manager of the Western Air express.

Major Moseley was the principal speaker at the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Santa Ana Kiwanis club, held yesterday at St. Ann's Inn. George Dunton presided over the program, which, in addition to Major Moseley's address, included several musical numbers.

Tracing the history of aviation from its early experimental stage to its present state of perfection, Major Moseley took his listeners back to the early days of the war, when the various armies began to employ airplanes for scouting duty and intelligence service.

"Eyes of Army"
Although referred to in press dispatches as "the eyes of the army," they failed to render any conspicuous service until there had been a satisfactory improvement, both in personnel and equipment, the speaker observed.

The hazardous nature of the service performed by military aviators called for the maximum amount of efficiency in operation, hence every effort was devoted to improvement in personnel and equipment, one nation vying with another for supremacy of the air.

Though military aviators had demonstrated the practicability of aviation for various purposes, there was no attempt at commercial development in this country immediately following the armistice, the airman asserted. Here and there, throughout the width and breadth of the country, so called "gypsy" flyers established themselves on vacant lots using second-hand machines for transportation of passengers at so much a head per trip.

Because of numerous accidents, these "gypsy" flyers did much harm to the cause of aviation, creating a feeling of distrust among the general public.

Experiences Valuable
Moseley added, however, that while their operations were not calculated to create a state of confidence, the experience gained by these free lancers proved valuable to airplane manufacturers.

The former air officer went on to say that it was only in recent years that the United States had placed its stamp of approval on commercial aviation. This action was in line with the policy adopted by foreign governments to encourage and stimulate commercial aviation, thus building a national reserve of highly trained designers, mechanics and pilots for defense purposes.

As a result of the encouragement held out by the federal government, a number of prominent Los Angeles business men organized the Western Air express, now operating a fast air mail service between Los Angeles and Salt Lake City.

Tells of U. S. Line
Before taking up the activities of his own company, Major Moseley made a brief outline of the main transcontinental air line operated by the United States between San Francisco and New York. This service has been maintained for the last five years. During the experimental stage, he said, a number of pilots lost their lives. Today, he added, the danger of accident or trouble has been reduced to nothing.

The Western Air express, the airman continued, is one of the many feeder lines that connect with the government operated main line between San Francisco and New York.

According to the speaker, the Western Air express has made a success of its undertaking with prospects for fair return on the investment. The government pays $3 a pound for all mail transported between Los Angeles and Salt Lake City and vice versa. The volume of mail handled over the air route has increased from 40 to 160 pounds a trip. The company is using the Douglas mail plane, built in Santa Monica, provided with specially built 400 horsepower Liberty motors.

The planes are equipped with every known safety device against fire and engine trouble, including self-releasing, portable storage gasoline tanks, which can be dropped to the ground in case of fire. The old wooden propeller has been discarded for a steel propeller, adding to the safety of navigation.

None but picked men are employed as pilots. The same care is exercised in selecting mechanics. It was explained. Illustrating the efficiency of the latter, the speaker said that while the postal service employs 67 men to operate the San Francisco-Salt Lake City air line, only 22 men are used by the Western Air express to operate the Los Angeles-Salt Lake City line.

Capital Letter
WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Washington is looking forward to a red hot session of congress this coming winter, as a sequel to Senator Jim Reed's activities as a primary election investigator.

Probably there will be no definite action until the 70th congress meets, but there will be plenty of talk in what's left of the 69th.

It will be talk, too, in which big names will figure.

The men to whom the names belong are not all involved personally in the scandals Senator Reed has been digging into, but at least they've been referred to in his inquiry, which will be an excuse for mentioning them again in debate at the capitol.

RECORD SET IN SHIPMENTS OF CITRUS FRUITS

The 1925-1926 California citrus season was the heaviest in the number of carloads shipped in the history of the industry, with a grand total of 63,643 cars of oranges, lemons and grapefruit picked, according to the official Fruit World report, just received by citrus growers in Santa Ana and Orange county.

The next heaviest season, the report shows, was that of 1923-1924, when 60,732 cars were shipped.

The total of orange shipments for the 1925-26 season was 50,033 cars, the heaviest shipments in the history of the industry being in 1922-23, when 50,964 cars were shipped.

Lemon shipments for the 1925-26 season were the heaviest in the history of the industry, with a total of 13,610 cars, against 13,097 cars in 1923-24, the next heaviest shipping season.

Southern California orange shipments for the 1925-26 season totaled 41,236 cars. The heaviest shipping year was that of 1922-23, when 43,180 cars were shipped.

Central California orange shipments for the 1925-26 season were the heaviest in the history of the industry, with a total of 8,458 cars moved, against 7,941 cars in 1924-25, the next heaviest shipping season.

The northern California, the heaviest orange shipping season was in 1916-17, when 845 cars were shipped, compared with 339 cars the last season.

TUBERCULOSIS ASSOCIATION PREPARES FOR STAMP SALE

Christmas Seal Funds Will Be Used in Battling Dread Disease

The Christmas season is approaching and with it comes the annual sale of the little Christmas seals, issued by the Orange County Tuberculosis association to secure funds with which to carry on its humanitarian fight against tuberculosis and the work of prevention. Its health program provides for care of pre-tuberculous children in open air health camps, one of which is maintained in the Santiago canyon, near the county park.

Mrs. Amelia A. Meagher, executive secretary of the Orange County Tuberculosis association, has received 2,200,000 seals, which will be distributed throughout the county.

The little stamp this year brings through its bright-hued carollers, a message of fellow beings who are not so happy, but who can be made happy by being offered good health through the small and kindly donations.

Work Begun in Earnest

The work of putting out the Christmas seals has begun in earnest in the office in the Hall of Records, made available by County Tax Collector J. C. Lamb and other county officials.

Volunteer workers are asked to offer their assistance in folding the seals and putting them in envelopes.

The following is the letter sent to citizens throughout the county by the Orange County Tuberculosis association, through its executive secretary, Mrs. Amelia A. Meagher: "Dear Friend: Have you ever stopped to realize what would happen in this community if we were without the great 'master key,' which opens the door to the cure and prevention of tuberculosis?"

"We are enclosing copies of this key as our annual reminder of the approaching holiday season. Our annual seal sale, with its great educational campaign, carries into thousands of homes our messages, that the real spirit of Christmas, in the spiritual sense, is when you extend the gift of health to many whom you never see. This is your opportunity to purchase the gift of health for some person who needs it here."

Declining Death Rate

"This key, in the last few years, has opened the door, in Orange county, to the monthly diagnostic chest clinics, children's health camp, case placing and supervision. Adults and children have been placed in sanatoria and preventoria and many case problems have been taken care of through personal supervision and attention. Control of tuberculosis in California no longer is impossible, as facts and figures show a declining death rate, but future control depends largely on the number of Christmas seals sold each year."

No Action Taken To Fill Position On School Board

Inquiries made this morning at the board of education offices revealed that so far no steps have been taken toward filling the vacancy created by the resignation of Marshall L. Keeler, school trustee, who is removing to Long Beach.

It was intimated that the matter of appointing a successor will be held up until the next regular meeting of the board, set for Tuesday, November 9.

While several names have been submitted as candidates for the vacancy, and while others have been under consideration, none of them have been discussed with a view to appointment, it was explained.

Reserves Hear Meeting Reports

ORANGE, Nov. 4.—Reports of meetings held recently by Girl Reserves at Asilomar, Monterey county, and their advisors at Griffith park, Los Angeles, October 14 to 16, were given at a meeting of the woman's provisional committee of the Girl Reserves held at the high school yesterday afternoon.

Acid Stomach

"Phillips Milk of Magnesia"
Better than Soda

Hereafter, instead of soda take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the souring waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drug-store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Co. and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.—Adv.

Owner of $3500 Diamonds Located by Register "Found" Ad!

FOUND—Purse. Inquire 114 South Broadway. Identify. Mrs. E. M. Standard.

That it pays to use and to read Register Classified Ads was demonstrated when the little "Found" ad, above, returned a purse of valuables and money to the rightful owner.

Mrs. Effie M. Standard of 114 South Broadway found a purse on the state highway this side of Capistrano. The above ad was inserted in the Register. In a few days the purse was identified by Mrs. Walter Brown from the East, who was touring the state.

The purse contained 15 articles including diamond rings valued at $3500, and $136.20 in money.

Since Mrs. Standard refused any reward the only expense to the owner was the small cost of the Register ad.

Just another proof of the Register's "pulling power."

TY COBB QUILTS AS LEADER OF DETROIT CLUB

Umpire George Moriarty to Succeed 'Georgia Peach'
As Manager of Tigers

DETROIT, Nov. 4.—Tyrus Raymond Cobb, "the Georgia peach of baseball," has resigned his place as manager of the Detroit Tigers—retaining until the last those idiosyncrasies which distinguished him from both the average man and ball player.

In his place George Moriarty, American league umpire and former Detroit third baseman, has been named to take up the helm of the Detroit club.

While Cobb was on his way to the many baseball records he holds—and he holds virtually everything in the batting marks except for home runs—no one could ever say when he would report to train or to a ball game that an opponent could tell what he would do when at bat or on the paths.

So, When the fiery manager decided he had enough, he came to Detroit for one day, told his boss, Frank J. Navin, a high commissioner of baseball, "I think I'll quit," and went away.

It took Navin two full days to realize that the man who he once told writers "built these steel stands for us and can stay as long as he wishes," actually was through. Even today the tiger magnate refused to say he had Cobb's resignation, but admitted it had been "mentioned."

Cobb had been criticized frequently in the last two years and some of the Detroit writers, as well as many fans, had called for his managerial scalp. It was charged that the "Georgia peach" mishandled his pitchers and that he had no patience with erring players. Dissension was reported within the ranks where Cobb ruled with an iron hand.

Cobb began his major league career in 1905 and had served his entire team in the "hib show" with the Tigers. He led the American league in batting for nine consecutive seasons. For many years he was the same box office magnet that Babe Ruth is today.

DIAMOND'S GREATEST PLAYER
RESIGNS AS DETROIT LEADER

TY COBB

The player whom the experts have termed the "greatest of all time," has quit baseball. Ty Cobb, the fiery, fighting, manager of the Detroit Tigers, resigned yesterday after 21 years in the majors. He will be succeeded at Detroit by George Moriarty, American league umpire, who was once a Detroit player.

POLY B ELEVEN TO TRY WARNER
PASS IN GAME

Sport fans who saw the "big game" between Stanford and U. S. C. will be interested in how successful Coach Ray Adkinson's Santa Ana class B team is with the "Pop" Warner short screen pass, used successfully by Stanford, when the lightweights tangle with Glendale in a league game here tomorrow afternoon.

The pass is executed back of the line of scrimmage when a player takes the ball and then throws it to the fullback at the center of the line who then plunges through on a buck.

Lloyd Manderscheid, consistent ground gainer for the "Bees" will probably be on the receiving end of the pass.

Coach Adkinson admitted that the game with Glendale will be a hard battle. So far this season, Glendale has been undefeated. Santa Ana has one victory against two losses.

All of the regulars will be in the lineup for Santa Ana with the exception of Lynn Hamilton, tackle, who cracked his collar bone in last week's match against South Pasadena. His place on the line will be taken by Curtis Youel. The lineup will probably be White and Siddoway, ends; Youel and Edwards, tackles; Rimel and Vegeley, guards; Bartholomew, center; Manderscheid, quarterback; Hillgass and Fairchild, halfbacks, and Smith, fullback.

SCHIKAT, JONES DRAW
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4.—Richard Schikat and Paul Jones, heavy-weight grapplers, wrestled two hours to an uninteresting draw in the main event of the Olympic card last night.

OLIVER EXPECTED TO START
SAME PLAYERS AT GLENDALE
WHO OPENED AGAINST TIGERS

With one possible exception, the same eleven players who opened up against South Pasadena last Friday will start for Santa Ana high school Saturday when Coach "Tex" Oliver's improved football creation enters its fourth Coast Preparatory league brush of the season against Glendale at Glendale. If there is a change, and there may be none at all, it will be in the backfield.

So few experienced players reported to Oliver at the beginning of the season that he was forced to experiment with almost every man on the squad in a desperate effort to plug holes in the line and backfield left by a horde of graduates from the powerful squad of last season.

Class will tell, however, and Oliver now knows just about what each and every member of his squad can do under fire.

Jack Blakeney and Francis Harvey are the leading ends although Roger Hearn is coming along fast and should break into more than one contest before the season is completed. Captain Dean Milen and Charles Ehrhorn have clinched the tackle berths. John Casey, Frank Wurster and William Dotts are the best guards although Casey is still on the hospital list with injuries sustained in the Long Beach tiff. Chet Siegel is the center. He got off slowly but has shown great football in last two starts.

Ralph Selway, Guy Harvey, "Bono" Koral, Robert Norton and Hubert Prior are the most skilled of the backs but they will all have to bear down to hold their jobs if Bob Belding, the hard-hitting fullback, gets back in the game. Belding is out with a bad ankle at present. Selway has clinched his position already and Harvey is gradually approaching something like his 1925 form so these two are nearly certain to start against Glendale. Koral, Norton and Prior are battling for the other two jobs. Koral and Norton probably will start Saturday.

GOLDEN BEARS OFF FOR HUSKY RUCKUS

BERKELEY, Nov. 4.—California's Golden Bears were enroute north today to meet Washington at Seattle Saturday in the Bears' first away from home encounter of the season.

Possibility that two star players would be out of the game at Seattle diminished the not too bright hopes. Captain Bert Griffin has not been out for practice all week due to injuries. Griffin has been the bulwark of the Bears' secondary defense at full this season.

Andy Miller, center, is still suffering a badly wrenched knee received in the U. S. C. game several weeks ago and it was indicated he might not get into the play. The Bears are due in Seattle tomorrow morning.

After a temporary retirement following two decisive thumpings, Bert Colima, Mexican middleweight and the pride of Whittier, is back in the ring again. Colima still is popular with Vernon fans and he has been signed for several forthcoming bouts at Jack Doyle's emporium of swat.

OF THE OLD SCHOOL

In naming Owen Bush as manager of the Pirates, Barney Dreyfus, owner of the club, selected a leader of the aggressive type, a game little fighter who never quits. He insists that his players assume a similar attitude toward baseball. Well do I recall the first game he played in the American league. It was back in 1908, early in September. He came to the Detroit club unheralded, but it took only one game for him to break into the headlines.

Bush started the season of 1908 with Indianapolis of the American association. No one figured Indianapolis as a pennant contender. The club got away to a poor start, and in mid-season appeared to be out of the running.

Then came a complete reversal of form; the team hit its stride, and the day before the season closed, won out over Louisville.

INJURIES HANDICAP

Detroit, in the meantime, had made a deal for Bush, but he was not to be delivered until the close of that season. At the time it didn't seem as if the Tigers would need him.

Coming down the home stretch, Detroit, suffered a terrific jolt in the injury to Shortstop Charley O'Leary and the illness of Third Baseman Bill Coughlin.

It looked as if Detroit would lose the pennant because of lack of

FEW UNBEATEN TEAMS REMAIN
IN U. S. RACE

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—No reason ever has been advanced to explain the folly of a horse that will dash back into a burning barn and the cause that prompts an expert to get his judgment on football teams, scored week after week is just as much a mystery.

The horse simply does it and so does the expert. Last Saturday and the week previous, the major football teams did just what the experts said they wouldn't do. But this week offers some consolation to the brave prophets. They can't make as many errors of judgment because there will not be as many big games.

Unbeaten Teams Dwindle
Week by week the undefeated teams all over the country—especially in the east, have dwindled from an impressive platoon to a skimpy squad with some blank files.

Notre Dame and Ohio State remain the class of the middle west; Army, Navy, Brown, Lafayette and New York university in the east; Alabama in the south; Stanford on the coast, and Missouri in the "Valley" conference.

Of these undefeated teams it is only a sure bet that Ohio State will still be undefeated next Saturday night, because Ohio State doesn't play Saturday.

There is only one real game in the east and it will attract notice principally because of its tradition. That game is the first of the "Big Three" series between Harvard and Princeton.

Harvard Coming Strong

If anyone can pick the winner of that game he can have it. Harvard, stronger and with some of that stuff that the professors call inspiration, looks like the choice but grizzled experts never know how to figure a Princeton team in its two major games.

Yale, having been defeated by Brown and Army, looks with relief on a game with Maryland and if Maryland is as easy as Yale seems to expect it will give the battered team a rest for two hard games that are coming against Princeton and Harvard.

Pennsylvania, bumped last week by Illinois in one of the big surprises of the day, meets Penn State.

Michigan, beaten last week by the Navy, faces another heavy game against Wisconsin.

Branch, Oxy Fight
To Stay In Race

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4.—Dith the University of Southern California resting after their trouncing at the hands of Stanford last week and preparing for their Armistice day battle with the Oregon Aggies at Portland, spotlight in local football circles centers on the Southern Branch-Occidental clash at the Coliseum Saturday.

The importance of the struggle in the Southern conference is indicated by the fact that the loser will be definitely out of the race for conference honors.

Interest in Orange County league football again will be centered on Huntington Beach and Fullerton tomorrow afternoon. The game that will be played between "Shorty" Smith's Redshirts and Harry Sheue's Seasideers at Fullerton will virtually decide the championship of the circuit which includes every Orange county city but Santa Ana.

Fullerton triumphed, 12 to 6, over Huntington Beach a week ago. A decision by the referee, who afterward admitted he was in error, resulted in the scheduling of a second test. Fullerton voluntarily replayed the affair.

Nelson Barry, probably the cleverest back in the league, will match his wits against those of Adams, shrewd Redshirt quarter. It is a foregone conclusion that Barry will not again make the mistake of trying to pass over the goal line on the first down with only a couple of minutes to play.

Huntington Beach came from behind last week on a series of passes and marched to within eight yards of the Fullerton goal in three plays. With two minutes to play and eight yards to go, Barry called a forward pass over the Fullerton goal. A Fullerton man knocked the ball down and Fullerton took the ball on its own 20-yard line. Right there Huntington Beach lost a chance to tie up the game and possibly win, as Barry is an able drop kicker.

Fullerton will take on Brea in a league encounter the following day, Saturday. Coach Smith evidently believes his first team substitutes and his second team are good enough to take the Brea boys into camp.

Tustin will travel to Orange for a league encounter. Tustin is not expected to offer much resistance to the Orangemen as most of the Bearpickers have been fighting the forest fire in the mountains for the past week. Several of the Tustin regulars are still on the hospital list also.

Anaheim will engage in an embroglio with Garden Grove on the Chilipepper team's field. Anaheim is so much in the title race that it will be in a triple tie for the championship if Huntington Beach defeats Fullerton. The Fullerton team is the only one that has upset the Mother Colony boys.

YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED! LOOK AT TONGUE

Hurry, Mother! Remove poisons from little stomach, liver, bowels

Give "California Fig Syrup" if cross, bilious or feverish

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that the little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Fig Syrup," and in a few hours the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of the little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless, "fruity laxative" because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Fig Syrup," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

ARMISTICE DAY FETE ROUSES BREA INTEREST

Brea is to be well represented in the Armistice day parade at Santa Ana, according to Com. Frank Mason, of Brea post, American Legion. Several floats have been entered from Brea, a marching unit will be in line and the post flag and colors will be conspicuously placed near the head of the parade. Brea-Olinda high school, Brea grammar schools, Duro Engineering works, Brea Cement Products company, Brea Boiler works, Brea Ignition works, Shaffer Tool works and the Brea post of the Legion are among the entries already listed, with the possibility that the chamber of commerce and other interests will arrange for entries this week.

The industrial division of the parade this year is of special interest to the Brea district because of the opportunity it gives to show a large crowd what is being accomplished in that line in the north end of the county. The floats in this division are to be on exhibition all afternoon, following the parade.

The Santa Ana celebration is the seventh annual Orange county observation of Armistice day, sponsored by the Orange County Council of the American Legion, of which Ted Craig, of Brea, is this year's commander, and Frank Mason, adjutant. Much of Brea's interest in the coming celebration is said to be due to the fact that Brea men have been thus honored by their Orange county comrades.

BREA

BREA, Nov. 4.—Mrs. Wamsley, a cousin of Mrs. Minnie Epla, motored over from Whittier Tuesday and was an all day guest in the Epla home. Mrs. Wamsley came to California recently from Oregon.

Bert Caraher, who left Brea some months ago to accept a position in the warehouse of the Shell Oil company in Venezuela, returned to his home Saturday and will not return. Mr. Caraher had planned on moving his family to South America but found conditions not to his liking there.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Tremaine are the proud parents of a nine pound girl, born to them at their home on October 31. This is the first child in the home.

Amateur circle entertains Friday afternoon at a card party for members and their friends in the Masonic temple in Fullerton. Mrs. Florence Anderson, of Brea, and Mrs. Tillie McMahan, of Fullerton will be joint hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Benett motored to San Diego over the week-end. They returned with friends. They were accompanied by Mr. Burns. Following their regular meeting because of the election Tuesday, members of the Brea Parent-Teacher association will meet at 2:15 o'clock on the afternoon of November 9, in the auditorium of the Brea grammar school. The musical program is to be furnished by Miss Louise Chapman, instructor of music in the Brea-Olinda high school, and her orchestra. Mrs. O'Reilly, school nurse, will address the association on this occasion. While all mothers are urged to be present, this meeting is designed to be of special importance to mothers of high school students, according to a member of the organization.

Not to be outdone by the fact that Legion hall was being occupied by an election board on Tuesday night, members of the Legion adjourned to the new rifle range location in Tonner canyon for their regular weekly meeting, where they held an outdoor meeting with an attendance of 25. Dick Richardson was accepted as a new member.

Mrs. Eva Jarvis came down from her sojourn in the desert to officiate on the election board. She reports her son, Bert Phlegley, as somewhat improved by his stay at Victorville. Mrs. Jarvis' daughter, Mrs. Scott Tremaine, with her small daughter, also have been staying at Victorville.

The year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Russell was reported as being very ill and threatened with pneumonia the first of the week but is now improving.

Trinity Rehearsal lodge will hold its regular bi-monthly meeting in Craig's Hall on November 8. Nomination of officers for the coming term of six months will be in order and all members are urged to be present.

Mrs. A. J. Newberry, who has been visiting in the Harlan Epla home for the past several weeks, spent several days visiting with friends in Los Angeles over the week-end.

Brea-Olinda A team is to meet the A team of the Fullerton high school in the Brea bowl Saturday afternoon. Much interest is being manifested in this game and a large crowd is expected. The game is called for 3 o'clock.

President James Leach, of the Brea Legion Rifle club, has issued a call to all Legionnaires, members of the club and others interested in target practice, to take a look at the new rifle range in Tonner canyon next Sunday. Baseball will be played and a barbecue is also included in the plans, while the advice and manual labor of members is being solicited. Leach reports that the pits have been dug and proved the location even better than was at first supposed. The barbecue is to be under the supervision of Louis Stumbo, local meat merchant and popular Legionnaire, assisted by Leslie Slaughter and others. Applications are reported coming in from many local shooting fans and when supplies are received from Washington, everything is expected to be in readiness.

Another of the series of dances to be given by the Oil Workers' union No. 27 has been arranged for November 13 in Craig's hall.

Henry Baldwin, of the Star agency of Fullerton, has opened an agency in Brea for the Chrysler car. Mr. Baldwin has headquarters in the Bergman garage, where he now has several models of the car on exhibit.

Alkali Water In Oregon Lakes Is Fatal to Ducks

PORTLAND, Nov. 4.—Industrial and agricultural progress in southern Oregon is working a hardship on wild ducks, it was revealed here in a report of a Portland Chamber of Commerce committee.

Water diverted from lakes for power and irrigation purposes has lowered the lakes to a considerable degree and has increased in direct ratio the percentage of alkali in the water. This alkali makes the birds sick and thousands of them die.

A peculiar phase of the problem is that birds making their abode on these lakes the full year are not affected by the alkali water, but migrating birds become fatally ill shortly after arrival.

CHAIN STORES' CONSOLIDATION IS ANNOUNCED

Confirmation of rumors, current for some time, involving the consolidation of Pacific Coast and Pacific Northwest chain store interests, was had today, with the announcement by M. E. Skaggs, president of Skaggs United Stores company, L. L. Skaggs, president of Skaggs Cash Stores company, and W. R. H. Weldon, president of the Safeway stores, Inc., of the successful completion of negotiations and the merging of the three big chains into one system, effective July 1, 1926.

Net assets of the concerns involved in the transactions are given as in excess of five million dollars and the deal includes 784 retail grocery stores, 122 meat markets, six bakeries and other activities of a similar nature, operating in 10 western states. Estimated total annual sales of the stores involved are said to approximate $60,000,000 and the officials of the concern state that it is the intention to rapidly extend the present scope and volume of the business. The merger is said to make this the largest concern operating west of the Mississippi river.

In making the announcement of the consolidation, heads of the concern involved pointed out that the three chains have been and now are operating in non-competing territory. The two Skaggs chains are located in and around San Francisco, in the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys, in California, and in most of the larger cities and towns of the other nine northwestern states, including Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Utah, Nevada, Wyoming, Colorado and extending as far east as Nebraska. The Safeway stores operate entirely in Southern California.

Rev. Cochran Is Lions' Speaker

ORANGE, Nov. 4.—Community betterment formed the topic of an address to the Lions club yesterday by the Rev. Earl P. Cochran, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Musical entertainment was supplied by Mr. and Mrs. A. Day, local artists.

Dr. C. S. Parker, president of the Rotary club, was present as guest of honor.

Enlarged Abdomen
Misplaced Uterus—
Eliminator Here

Dr. Adolph Petter, the noted specialist of Los Angeles for 25 years, will be at St. Ann's Inn, Santa Ana, from Thursday till Sunday noon.

After 25 years of continual practice as an Orthopedist (deformity doctor) for the profession in Los Angeles, Dr. Adolph Petter, a licensed physician, has during extensive examination, discovered a complete and permanent natural system of permanently eliminating ruptures, misplaced uterus, enlarged abdomen, that is HARMLESS, PAINLESS and BLOODLESS.

After attending many surgical operations, Dr. Petter now holds and proves there is absolutely nothing irreparably torn, broken or injured in the unoperated. Come and investigate.

The profession is especially invited to pass on this new, yet now long tried and true contribution to the healing science. Having cured members of his family of ruptures, an editor of a prominent Los Angeles paper, for the good of humanity, asked Dr. Petter to publish a complete and now widely copied article on the predisposing cause; the contributing irritation; the disastrous effect and the natural cure of these most distressing and dangerous of all diseases. Do secure a copy of this "DIAGNOSIS AND ADVICE FREE, and cheerfully given, whether you be a patient, or not. Endorsed by leading physicians and Soldiers Homes; Especially speedy cures secured in ruptured children. BUILDERS' QUERIES ANSWERED

By Southern California Chapter, Associated General Contractors of America

Q. There are several dwellings in the neighborhood where I intend to build that were constructed of brick with plaster exterior facing, and the plaster has an unsightly appearance. The outlines of the brick is showing through, the plaster is cracking, and the color effect is not uniform. Kindly tell me what causes this condition.

A. There are four features, any one of which, if disregarded, will cause an unsightly appearance in the finish plaster job over masonry construction. These features are: (1) Failure to sprinkle the walls just prior to application of plaster. Over-sprinkling is as much to be condemned as no sprinkling at all, but it is not so common; (2) The application of the first coat with a trowel. All plastering should be at least two-coat work and the first coat should be a dash coat; (3) Skimping on the thickness of plaster. The final thickness of the two coats should not be less than three-fourths of an inch; (4) The practice of "doubling-up," or applying the second coat the same day as the first coat. This practice should never be allowed for any reason. At least three days should elapse between the application of the two coats, and if a color coat is applied, at least ten days should elapse between the application of the second and third coats.

Q. What method would you suggest to be followed when making payments to a contractor who is building my home?

A. The progress payments should be arranged before work is started.

A good method is as follows: Twenty per cent of the contract price when the first floor joists are in place and rough lumber is on the job; 20 per cent when the roof is on, 20 per cent when the building is plastered, 20 per cent when the building is completed, and the last 20 per cent when the time limit has elapsed for filing mechanic's liens, which is usually 35 days after the notice of completion is recorded in the county recorder's office. See to it that the contractor furnishes you with receipted bills from every material dealer and sub-contractor who had anything to do with the erection of your dwelling.

Q. Is my lien right forfeited if I accept an order on escrow when my lien rights expire before the escrow comes out?

A. Yes, it is gone forever. You must act quickly under the statute, and it is advisable that if you have any doubt as to the ultimate outcome, file your lien for protection, then put your release into escrow.

RELIEF BOARD FOR CHILDREN TO MEET

Consideration of ways and means for financing operations for the ensuing year; election of a new board of directors; appointment of service committees; reading of address matters, are among matters to be taken up at tonight's regular meeting of the Crippled Children's Relief Association of Orange County, to be held in the band room of the city hall, Anaheim, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

Tonight's meeting, it was explained by Harry D. Riley, president of the organization, is not only open to members of the organization, but to all citizens interested in this phase of child welfare work.

Customer Walks Off With Punch Board and Prizes

It is generally conceded that merchants have punch boards in their places of business for profit, but one board, which was on a counter in the Hinkley pharmacy, 1301 North Main street, will have to be checked in the "profit and loss" column. While Hinkley was at the rear of his store yesterday afternoon, a "customer," who could not wait to punch out the lucky numbers, took the board and all the prizes, according to a report made to the police by Hinkley.

Buy National Mortgage Common

IN the conviction that its potential earning power justifies the present price of National Mortgage Common and that the likelihood of materially increased earnings will be reflected in advances of its market value, we recommend the purchase of this stock. Our own belief is confirmed by the faith of present stockholders, the vast majority of whom are holding their stock instead of taking the substantial profits represented in the advanced price of this stock to date.

Just analyze with us the reasons back of our confidence in the future of National Mortgage Common

National Mortgage has the Capital for Large Operations

The $5,700,000 and more of resources shown in the Company's statement of September 30, 1926 make National one of the largest mortgage companies on the Pacific Coast. It is much sought by borrowers. It may, therefore, take its choice of loans. Thus it is sure of high security back of its operations.

National Mortgage has the Market Which Insures Turn-over

It has well established outlets among insurance companies and other investors for its mortgages. This insures a ready turn-over of capital. It is this turn-over which insures profitable operation for any mortgage company.

National Mortgage has Able Executive Personnel

Brains and experience are even more important to the success of any business than capital. The executives of National Mortgage Company are men of wide experience in the mortgage business. Levering Moore, President of the Company, is a leading figure among investment bankers, and nationally known. The Board of Directors are men of outstanding business and professional success in California. They have proven their faith in the future of National Mortgage by their own personal investments and those of business associates, relatives and friends aggregating over $1,500,000 of the Company's subscribed-for capital.

National Mortgage is State-wide in Operation

The Company operates throughout the entire state. Its field is the most active, in building, of any in the country. It is sure of a permanent and brisk demand for construction loans. Because of state-wide operation it has wide choice in the matter of desirability of loans.

National Mortgage Fixed Capital Cost is Low

Fixed capital charges are only 4.7% on the entire capitalization, due to the fact that not a single share of free or promotional stock was ever issued, which is a much lower rate than usual among financial companies. The low cost of operating capital means that the profits of the business can be correspondingly greater.

All Over 4.7% is Applicable to Common

Net earnings above the Preferred Stock dividend requirements are applicable to Common Stock. Five Preferred dividends have already been paid. With the large capital now available greater earnings are to be expected, and should result in highly satisfactory dividends on the Common Stock, giving a steadily increasing market value—a value greatly in excess of its present price.

We Own and Offer, Subject to Prior Sale

a Limited Amount of National Mortgage Common at $10.00 per share.

We recommend this stock to investors who can afford to buy now, for future profits.

"CASCARETS" FOR YOUR BOWELS IF HEADACHY, SICK

To-night! Clean your bowels and end Headaches, Colds, Sour Stomach

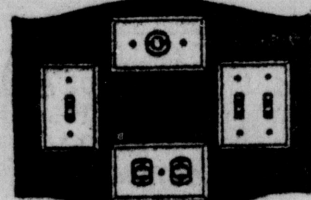

Get a 10-cent box. Put aside—just once—the Salts, Pills, Castor Oil or Purgative Waters which merely force a passageway through the bowels, but do not thoroughly cleanse, freshen and purify these drainage organs, and have no effect whatever upon the liver and stomach. Keep your "insides" pure and fresh with Cascarets, which thoroughly cleanse the stomach, remove the undigested, sour food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken, and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have Headache, Bloating, Severe Colds, Indigestion, Sour Stomach or Constipated Bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them.—Adv.

THE ROMANCE OF AMERICA: Sam Houston

Sketches by Redner
Synopsis by Braucher

For his attack on Stanberry Houston was brought before the bar of the House, reprimanded and fined. The poet, Francis Scott Key, was his counsel. President Jackson remitted the fine. Houston left Washington for Texas, that romantic, unbounded world of the seething southwest, where he was to play the role of hero and avenger.

Houston rode into a land aflame against Mexican rule. Santa Anna was in power, and had established a cruel dictatorship.

When Stephen Austin went to Santa Anna to ask fulfillment of promises of a state of Texas, he was thrown into prison.

Austin's father and 300 families had come into the state in 1820, bearing Spanish land grants given to create a barrier against Indian depredations. Traveling by ox-cart these pioneers had braved the wilds, tamed the Indians and cultivated the soil. Stephen Austin's arrest was like oil poured on the flame of revolt. (Continued.)

THE TINYMITES

BY HAL COCHRAN

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

Out in the yard a wagon stood. Said Scouty, "Gee, I think we could just spend the night out in the air, up in that wagon seat. The farmer's blanket's in a heap. Just think how warm we all can keep." The Tinymites agreed this was a plan they couldn't beat.

So, up the wagon tongue they ran. "Let's be as quiet as we can," said Clowny, as he saw a light up in the farmer's house. "If he should hear us laugh or call, he'd come right out and spoil it all." So all the little fellows were as quiet as a mouse.

In 'bout a half an hour or more, they snoozed and then began to snore. They snuggled in the blanket so's to keep the cold air out. It surely was a funny sight to see them in the bright moonlight. A very happy, sleeping band of Tinymites, no doubt.

"Meow! Meow!" The cry came loud, and woke up all those in the crowd. The cats were having battles at the Tinymites' expense. Scared Scouty stood and strained his eyes, and saw a cat of monstrous size. "Twas waking everybody with its howling on the fence.

The shoes and things came flying fast. The Tines dodged as they flew past. Apparently the farmer didn't like to hear cats howl. Said Carpy, "We had best keep still, and stay right where we are until the cats are gone." But, then they heard the farmer's collie growl.

Right promptly they were on their feet, and jumped and hid beneath the seat. They either had to do this, or all run to beat the band. The collie chased the cats and then the Tinymites felt safe again, and so they all were glad to go right back to slumberland.

EDNA KENT FORBES

CARE OF TOILET THINGS

It is surprising how many diseases of the skin and scalp are communicated from one member of a family to another through towels and face cloths and brushes and such things. You may think, carelessly, that the face cloth soap, which you use every day, or twice a day, with which you wish your face, must be clean, it is being washed so often. But it isn't being washed, it is washing you, and takes into its soft and spongy fabric—the more expensive it is the softer and spongier the fabric—the dirt, cold cream, powder and perspiration from your skin.

To keep it clean, it should be washed every day, just by itself, in very hot water and with a lot of soap, and rinsed. So should your bath brush, which should then be turned upside down to dry. And if there's sun, they should be dried in the sun and air—on the outside of the bathroom window, where they won't show and will be handy. Sun, of course, is the greatest of germ killers.

As for a sponge, it is really a most unsanitary object, and yet it is so convenient to use when bathing, that the only thing to do is to take special care, to wash a sponge as you wash the face cloth with soapy hot water and to sun it too, when practical. A lot of recent government propaganda taught us the disease carrying ability of the common towel; to a minor extent, your towel, or that of some other member of your family, may carry disease. If you wash extra thoroughly, the towels will stay fresh and clean quite a time, if not, they'll show soil the first time used.

Hair brushes need special care—a thorough washing once a week with hot water for both brush and comb, if you want healthy hair. And use only your own things.

Mame F.—The bluing added to henna is the same as you use for laundry purposes, and it is quite harmless, so you can add as much as is necessary to darken the henna shade to your taste; I would not advise a hair dye.

Anxious Blue Eyes.—Use cucumber or lemon juice to bleach the summer tan from your skin, and after leaving this on the skin for a half hour, wash it off and massage with a cream or olive oil. It is all right for you to use soap if you rinse enough afterward.

Helen B. H.—If you keep the cuticle from growing over the nails and rub oil into them every night, or after you have immersed your hands for long in water, you will find much of the brittleness will disappear.

Tomorrow—Glossy Hair

A THOUGHT

A double-minded man is unstable in all his ways.—Jas. 1:8.

God has given you one face and you make yourselves another.—Shakespeare.

EASIER TO WASH

It is advisable to dust off your windows first before you wash them with hot water, soap and a bit of ammonia.

WRAP UP BRASS

When brasses are not in use, they should be wrapped in newspaper with small bags of camphor attached to keep them from tarnishing.

JUST A JINGLE

The grocer put it on the porch. Two pounds of liverwurst. The family never found it 'cause A stray dog got there first.

HANDY IDEA

Have a box in which you keep folded pieces of wrapping paper, string, small bags and boxes. It will be most convenient.

BRINGS NEW LIGHT

Often when an electric light bulb ceases to function it can be urged to action by tapping it gently on one side. This is rarely more than a temporary expedient, but if new bulbs are not at hand, it is a good thing to try.

A FEW LINES TO WISDOM

Well, life's begun. She's on her way To kindergarten school today!

They'll teach her little bits of verse And pretty lines which she'll rehearse,

And these I do not view with dread, I see the long years stretch ahead

And view with genuine concern The harsher lessons she must learn.

Wisdom, I pray, keep undefiled And sweet and true our lovely child!

And some shall teach her how to play, And some shall teach her what to say;

From babyhood she'll climb to youth, Acquiring more and more of truth,

With every fact she comes to know

From her some fairy-thought will go,

All this is well, but still I sigh On Wisdom's path great dangers lie.

Some lessons deeply brand and burn, These may our baby never learn.

Deal gently with her, Knowledge wise, Steal not the sunshine from her eyes,

Lead not those happy feet astray While promising a fairer way, Still keep her clean and pure of heart;

Save her from needless aches and smart. With beauty keep her cheeks aflame, Spare her the bitterness of shame. To you, today, our child we give, Teach her a glorious life to live.

Queer Quirks of NATURE.

TAKES COLOR TO MATCH HIS HABITAT

By ARTHUR N. PACK
President, American Nature Assn.
Tree-frogs of various generations are to be found in most countries of the world and are considered by many naturalists the most interesting group of tailless batrachians. Certainly they are the most beautiful.

Any attempt to pick out the most graceful, however, would be challenged by the champions of other claimants. Putting aside as frivolous the suggestion that the judgment of Paris would be in favor of Rana esculenta, it is suggested that the golden apple might well be awarded to the Arum frog or Rappia horstokil. This entrant for frog honors may be found on parts of the Cape Flats of South Africa.

Though frequenting grasses, reeds and low bushes near ponds or rivers, its typical site is in the arum bloom. Its usual position is down in the bloom. Its color in this position being ivory-white, its pink legs and sucker-provided feet being tucked right up under it, a casual glance into the bloom might pass it over.

In the darker surroundings its color approaches that of Jacobean oak, the change being a skin, rather than a sight, reflex.

The male has a very dilatate vocal sac, the voice being a loud "Chee, chee, chee." The eggs are laid in clusters of about 20 attached to the roots of grasses.

Tree frogs often resemble their chosen surroundings and possess a remarkable ability to assume colors that match their habitats. Our common American species is so like the gray bark of the oak or maple that even the one trilling on the lawn may elude all our efforts to detect him at his musicale.

Those Important Final Touches

BY JAMES BLAUVELT
For NEA Service

The ornaments you choose for your home will tell the world a long story about you—what your background is, whether you have inherent taste, whether you merely want to splurge with costly articles you do not really care for.

The choosing of the little things about the house requires as much care as the selection of the big ones. For a single bad floor lamp or an overloaded mantel may ruin the entire room on which you have spent so much energy and money. Here is a cluster of random suggestions about a variety of these smaller items.

Modern trends in lighting are toward greater simplicity. Many modern homes have no ceiling lights or wall brackets at all, but are lighted with an even glow from a number of soft-colored table, floor and bridge lamps.

Use Candles Where Possible

You may wish a ceiling pin-wheel cluster in the dining room, but you will want to use candle-light for the table, wherever possible. If you can light your dining room with table candles and a great sideboard candelabra, you will get an effect of charm never to be equalled by electricity.

The hall is sometimes a rather empty room, and will benefit by a hanging lantern of quaint design.

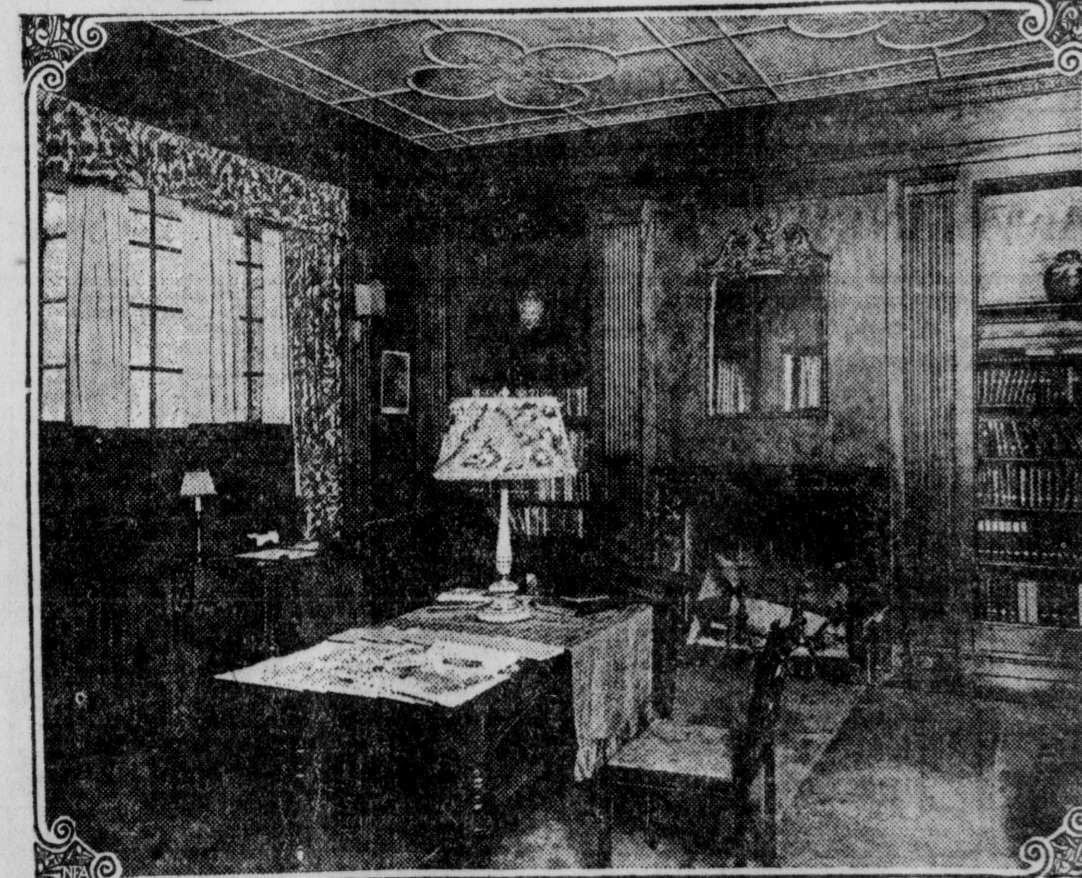

If you must have fixtures built in, allow enough money in the building budget to get very good ones, for the cheap fixtures common in America are so bad in line and material as to wreck the whole scheme of decoration.

If you are building, install a great number of base plugs and spend your money on lamps of different kinds.

Lamp shades are another problem that call for caution. English and early American homes may be suitably decorated with shades of parchment paper, old maps, music scores, old Godey prints and hunting prints.

Painted silk, taffeta, toile de jouy and chintz make charming shades of the American type.

Bridge lamps should be adjustable. Dull colonial brass is a good material for these small lamps, in which simplicity of line is essential.

Wise choice of ornamental objects lightens and adds charm to this chintz lamp shade repeats the colors of the draperies, and the mantel mirror brightens a dark wall space.

Luckily, American women are learning that heavy marble lamps, with twining flowers and cupid and much ribbon and folderol are not the height of luxury in a home, but an evidence of extremely bad taste.

Wrought Iron Effective

If you can afford a wrought iron bannister on the staircase, wrought iron flower stands and radiator boxes and light fixtures, you will find it most effective.

Place the harp or curved end of your piano toward the room, and drape it with some rich fabric, or ornament it with a lamp or a bowl of flowers. To conserve space, push its side against the wall.

Keep your mantels clear of all but the ornaments that really belong on it. A pair of candlesticks or vases, with a painting, or fabric or mirror hung above the mantel, furnish all the decoration any fireplace needs.

Round pillows are most in favor now, and the usual size for use on a six-foot davenport is between 16 and 18 inches. The covers should repeat colors noted of the room, and should be harmonized with one another, as well as with the davenport covering.

A black couch with rather vivid, variegated pillows gives a smart effect.

The tendency now is to make city houses as much like country houses as possible, and to use in the winter the same bright slip covers used in summer.

I prefer slip covers pleated and hung within a half inch of the floor. Glazed chintz is too slippery and limp for slip covers. But you may have the piece upholstered in it, and then tack on the flounces, to stimulate a slip cover.

Screens are extremely useful to break the awkward line, too often a corner, to give privacy or intimacy to a nook, or to shield a bed from draughts.

If you cannot afford tooled leather, er screens, there are chintz and toile and scenic paper screens that are almost as beautiful. A scenic screen, or a landscape painting lends perspective to a small room. Chinese screens are especially pretty in English rooms.

Mirrors are also useful to give perspective, and to lighten dark spaces. Plan so that each mirror reflects something beautiful, and catches light where light is needed. A crystal candelabra placed in front of a mirror is multiplied in beauty.

A home should not be "decorated" and then left to stand, complete, immobile and uninteresting, till the next renovation. It should be a growing, changing work of art, on which you may work forever, without finishing or growing tired.

capable infield substitutes. The Tiger management made every effort to have Indianapolis turn over Bush for immediate delivery.

It was in vain. Indianapolis needed Bush to win the pennant in the American association and didn't care what happened to Detroit.

WON THE PENNANT

The pennant clinched in the Indianapolis, Bush took the first train out for Detroit. He arrived a few hours prior to game time and was rushed into the lineup.

I doubt if Bush ever played a more remarkable game during his entire major league career than he did that day. He made four plays in which he handled balls hit directly over second base.

The veteran Herman Schaefer, playing second base for Detroit at the time, would walk over and shake hands with Bush after each play, while the crowd yelled its approval of the midge shortstop. In those days Bush didn't weigh much over 130 pounds.

During the remainder of the season he played 20 games for Detroit, fielded sensational and hit 50 points better than his minor league record with Indianapolis.

I think it is conservative to say that Bush made possible five victories by his sensational all-round work.

His value to the club in the home stretch can thus be appreciated by the fact that the pennant was not decided in Detroit's favor until the last day of the season by the margin of one-half game.

Bush is a miniature John McGraw in style and mannerisms. There are few of his kind in the game.

ORDINANCE NO. 600
An ordinance of the City of Santa Ana, California, amending Ordinance No. 624 of said City and legalizing the playing of Box Ball or at Bowling on Sundays.

The Board of Trustees of the City of Santa Ana, California, do ordain as follows:

SECTION 1. That Section 4 of Ordinance No. 624 of the City of Santa Ana, California, be amended, and that as amended shall read and be as follows, to-wit:

Section 4. It shall be unlawful to operate or carry on any Box Ball or Bowling Alley in the City of Santa Ana, California, at any time of day or night, nor earlier than 8 o'clock a. m. and the following business shall not be carried on in any room or place where there is any partition or obstruction separating or in whole or in part a clear view of such room or place from the street fronting upon such place of business.

Nothing herein contained shall apply to prevent the maintenance of toilets in any such room or place.

SECTION 2. The Board of Trustees do further ordain that all other sections of Ordinance No. 624 except Section 4, thereof shall remain and be in full force and effect.

SECTION 3. The City Clerk shall certify to the adoption of this ordinance and cause the same to be published three times in the Santa Ana Daily Evening Register, and it shall be in full force and effect thirty (30) days after the first publication.

I hereby certify that the foregoing ordinance was regularly introduced and read at its regular adjourned meeting held on the 25th day of October, 1926, and passed at its regular meeting held on the 1st day of November, 1926, by the following vote:

AYES—Trustees C. H. Chapman, E. B. Collier, Stanley E. Goode, F. L. Purinton.
NOES—Trustee Geo. McPhee.
ABSENT—Trustees: None.

Signed and approved this 1st day of November, 1926.

ORDINANCE NO. 799
AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF SANTA ANA, CALIFORNIA, REPEALING ORDINANCE NO. 592 OF THE CITY OF SANTA ANA, CALIFORNIA, WHICH ORDINANCE NO. 592 PROVIDES FOR THE LEVY OF TAXES BY THE COUNTY OFFICERS IN, BY AND FOR THE USE OF THE CITY OF SANTA ANA, FOR MUNICIPAL PURPOSES; PROVIDING THAT SAID REPEAL OF ORDINANCE NO. 592 SHALL NOT AFFECT THE LEVY OR COLLECTION OF 1926-1927 FISCAL YEAR TAXES.

The Board of Trustees of the City of Santa Ana, California, do ordain as follows, to-wit:

SECTION 1. That Ordinance No. 592 of the City of Santa Ana, providing for the assessment of property, and for the levy and collection of taxes by the County Officers in, by and for the use of the City of Santa Ana, for municipal purposes, consisting of ten sections, numbered one to ten, inclusive, as follows, to-wit:

"Section 1. That the provisions of an Act of the legislature of the State of California entitled 'An Act to Provide for the Levy and Collection of Taxes by and for the Use of Municipal Corporations and Cities Incorporated under the laws of the State of California,' except municipal corporations of the first-class, and to provide for the consolidation and abolition of certain municipal offices, and to provide that their duty may be performed by certain officers of the County, and fixing the compensation to be allowed for the County Officers for the service so rendered to such municipal corporations," approved March 27, 1905, and all Acts amendatory thereof and amendatory thereto, shall apply to and be in force in the City of Santa Ana, from and after the passage and publication of this Ordinance, and the Board of Trustees of said City of Santa Ana does hereby elect to avail itself of the provisions of said Act and all Acts amendatory thereof and amendatory thereto.

Section 2. The Board of Trustees of said City shall fix by Ordinance the amount of money necessary to be raised by taxation upon the taxable property of said City as a revenue to carry on the various departments of said City for each current year, not to exceed the limit fixed by law, and to pay the Bonded Indebtedness of said City falling due during such current year, and the interest on the principal of said indebtedness, and said Board of Trustees of said City shall meet for that purpose on the first Monday in August of each year, and shall at such meeting so assemble and fix said amount, by an ordinance passed and adopted on said date.

Section 3. The County Auditor of the County of Orange must, on or before the second Monday in August of each year, transmit to the Board of Trustees of said City, a statement in writing showing the total values of all property within said city, as the same is equalized and corrected by the Board of Supervisors of said County.

Section 4. The Board of Trustees of said City shall on the first Monday in September of each year, fix upon said City a rate of taxation, not to exceed One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) using as a basis the value of the property as assessed by the County Assessor and so returned to such Board by the County Auditor as required by said Act and by Section 3 of this Ordinance; which rate of taxation shall be sufficient to raise the amount of money so fixed by said Board of Trustees as required by said Act and by Section 3 of this Ordinance, and all of which acts of said Board of Trustees, shall be and are hereby declared to be a valid assessment of said property, and a valid levy of said rates so fixed, and the Board of Trustees shall transmit to the County Auditor of said County of Orange a statement of said rates immediately after they have been so fixed by said Board.

Section 5. The County Auditor must then compute and enter in a separate column in the assessment book, to be headed "City Tax, City of Santa Ana," the respective sums in dollars and cents to be paid as a municipal or city tax on the property therein enumerated and assessed as being in said municipal corporation or city, using the rate of levy so fixed by such Board of Trustees of the City of Santa Ana, and the assessed value as found in such assessment book. Such taxes so levied shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner as state and county taxes, and when collected the net amount as ascertained by Section 6 of this act shall be paid to the Treasurer of the City of Santa Ana under the general requirements and penalties provided by law for the settlement of other taxes.

Section 6. The County Auditor and County Tax Collector shall file with the Board of Supervisors itemized statements showing the additional expenses to their offices of assessing and collecting the City taxes of the City of Santa Ana, and upon the filing of such statements the Board of Supervisors shall by an order spread upon the minutes, deduct such expenses from the taxes of said city of Santa Ana, while in the hands of the County Tax Collector, and transfer the same into the county salary fund; provided that not more than one per centum shall be charged for collecting the first Twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) so collected and one-fourth of one per centum for all sums over that amount.

Section 7. Whenever the Board of Trustees of the City of Santa Ana shall have availed itself of the provisions of this act, all duties, other than the assessing of the property of said city, being in the office of the City Assessor shall be transferred to and performed by the Clerk of said City of Santa Ana, and all duties, other than the collecting of said city, belonging to the office of Tax Collector shall be transferred to and performed by the City Marshal of said city, and thereafter the office of City Assessor and City Tax Collector may be by ordinance abolished.

Section 8. Whenever any real property situate in the City of Santa Ana after it has been sold for taxes and has been redeemed, the money paid for such redemption shall be apportioned by the County Treasurer to said City of Santa Ana in the proportion which the tax due to said city bears to the total tax for which such real property was sold.

Section 9. Ordinance No. 419 of the City of Santa Ana, entitled: "An Ordinance providing for the assessment of property and for the levy and collection of taxes in, by and for the use of the City of Santa Ana for municipal purposes," and all ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict with this ordinance are hereby repealed, provided, however, that this ordinance shall not affect the collection and sale of property for taxes for the fiscal year 1914-1915."

Section 10. The City Clerk shall cause this ordinance to be published once in the "Evening Blade," a daily newspaper printed, published and generally circulated in the said City of Santa Ana and thirty days thereafter it shall take effect and be in force.

AND THE SAME, AND ALL OF SAID ORDINANCE, AS IS SET FORTH HEREINAFORE IS HEREBY REPEALED.

SECTION 11. It is further ordained that the repeal of Ordinance Number 412 shall not affect the collection of taxes for the fiscal year 1926-1927 or the sale of property when the taxes thereon are delinquent as provided by law.

SECTION 12. The City Clerk shall certify to the adoption of this ordinance and cause the same to be published three times in the Santa Ana Daily Evening Register, and it shall be in full force and effect thirty (30) days after its first publication.

I hereby certify that the foregoing ordinance was regularly introduced and read at its adjourned regular meeting held on the 25th day of October, 1926, and passed at its regular meeting held on the 1st day of November, 1926, by the following vote:

NEWS FROM ORANGE COUNTY TOWNS

SHIP 24 CARS OF TOMATOES FROM LA HABRA

LA HABRA, Nov. 4.—Twenty-four cars of green tomatoes have been shipped so far this season from La Habra and shipments are going out at the rate of two cars a day. It is expected that at least 60 cars will be shipped during the season, which will continue until frost intervenes.

Most of the product being shipped at present comes from the lands of Bishop and Price, who have close to 200 acres in tomatoes in different localities near La Habra, including a large tract in La Habra Heights, where tomatoes are produced after all other sections have been cut off by frost. Other local growers will ship in considerable quantities, however, during the season.

The tomato industry just at present is one of decided importance to La Habra. The canning plant is employing about 20 people, and the firm of Bishop and Price alone has 60 or more workers in the field. The Bastanchury ranch, which is shipping from its own plant, is employing a large number of workers. Many ranchers in the Heights have erected canneries and there are several large shippers.

With reasonable luck, the season for green tomatoes should continue until near the end of the year. After frost comes, growers in the protected district in the Heights will be able to sell the remaining crop ripened on the nearby markets. Prices at present are fairly good, it is stated.

UNION SERVICE IS PLANNED IN BREA

BREA, Nov. 4.—The regular meeting of the Brea Ministerial association was held Tuesday morning, at which time several matters of importance to the community came up. It was decided to hold the annual Thanksgiving service at the Baptist church at 10 o'clock on that day, the Baptist choir furnishing the music and the Rev. Remmy Hunt, of the Christian church delivering the sermon.

Plans were made for the sponsoring of a community Christmas tree, in which both civic and fraternal organizations of the city will be asked to co-operate. A meeting of those chosen to represent the various organizations will be held on the evening of November 15 at 7:30 o'clock in the parlors of the Congregational church.

Orange P.-T. A. Sponsors Benefit

ORANGE, Nov. 4.—Tickets for the benefit movie picture show to be presented at the Colonial theater next Tuesday and Wednesday by the Parent-Teacher association of the Center street school, were placed on sale this morning, with various members of the P.-T. A. taking tickets to sell.

The film version of Gene Stratton Porter's novel, "Laddie," is to be shown. Fourteen hundred tickets will be on sale through the P.-T. A. and school pupils.

At yesterday's meeting 12 new members were admitted to the P.-T. A. Help for certain families who need assistance was planned. Miss Mattie Danneman was placed in charge of the work.

The entertainment was furnished by members of the first grade and fifth grade, who gave musical numbers and readings.

Mrs. Horace Inge and Mrs. C. A. Elson were named to act as hostesses at the next meeting on December 1.

TUSTIN

TUSTIN, Nov. 4.—Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Kenyon were hosts at a three-course dinner and Halloween party in honor of Mrs. William Reeves and daughter, Miss Evelyn Reeves, of Vancouver, B. C., who are leaving soon for their northern home. Mrs. W. H. Kenyon was the winner of a guessing contest. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. L. Wakefield, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kenyon, Arthur Wakefield, Mrs. William Reeves, Miss Evelyn Reeves, Miss Ruth Barker, Miss Elizabeth Kenyon, Perry Kenyon and Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Kenyon.

Dr. and Mrs. Will Grant, of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Coutts, of South Pasadena, were visitors at the home of Mrs. C. Squires Monday.

The Rev. William E. Snider, pastor of the Advent Christian church here, is delivering a series of lectures in Santa Cruz. The Rev. B. L. McGee, of La Verne, is filling the pulpit of the local church during the Rev. Snider's absence.

United Gets Two Wells In H. B. Field

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 4.—The United Oil company yesterday reported the completion of two good wells in the city field in the west end of Huntington Beach, getting an aggregate production of about 1500 barrels per day from the two wells. The United Ward No. 1 was completed at a depth of 3960 feet, making a daily output of 860 barrels. The Buck No. 1 was drilled to 3755 feet, making over 600 barrels of oil, testing 21.7 degrees gravity, and showing a cut of 3.2 per cent.

TRAFFIC PROBLEM SOLUTION SOUGHT

BALBOA, Nov. 4.—Another step toward solving traffic conditions in Balboa was taken this morning, when officials of the Pacific Electric met with members of the local chamber of commerce to discuss the traffic problem presented on Central avenue.

It is expected that with the co-operation of business men with the Pacific Electric company, that Central avenue will be paved its entire width in the near future, which will make the electric tracks a part of the street.

C. H. Way, prominent Balboa merchant, is chairman of the chamber of commerce committee. Other members of the committee are Paul Kressly, city engineer, Frank Rinehart, J. P. Greeley, W. L. Gordon and Harry Welch.

If the improvements are carried out as planned, a great deal of the traffic congestion in Balboa will be eliminated.

Laguna Pictures On Exhibition In Capistrano School

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Nov. 4.—The November meeting of the P.-T. A. was held tonight at 7:45 o'clock in the high school auditorium. The exhibit furnished by the Laguna Art club will be the chief attraction. This exhibit, called the traveling art exhibit, is to be in the high school for two weeks and is free. The pictures were painted by prominent artists of Laguna Beach. Everyone is invited to come and see them.

SPRINGDALE

SPRINGDALE, Nov. 4.—Norman Ruoff was at home from Friday evening until Sunday evening, having come up on the stage from San Diego to spend the week-end with his family. Norman, who a few weeks ago underwent an appendicitis operation, has resumed his studies at the San Diego Naval academy but has not taken any of the military training since the operation.

J. W. Young, with the assistance of J. J. Graham, moved a small house which he owned here to Sunset Beach, where he will improve his beach lot.

Mrs. G. M. Roberson entertained on Sunday at dinner, her cousins, Miss Irma DeBarb and Linn DeBarb, of Santa Ana. In the afternoon, they were joined by friends, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Richart and son, Charles, of Los Angeles, and Miss Mary Philpot, of Long Beach. Mrs. Richart is leaving within a few days for the east to bring to her home her mother, Mrs. Martha Philpot, who three years ago was a visitor in this state and spent some time in the Roberson home. Mrs. Philpot will remain in California for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vervoren, accompanied by Mrs. Vervoren's father, George Gothard, of Wintersburg, and sister, Mrs. Forest Sebastian, of Smeltzer, attended the funeral of George Coker, former local resident, in Los Angeles, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley Graham, of Long Beach, and their small son were Sunday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Graham. Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Graham have just returned from a five weeks' fishing trip in his boat around San Diego and into Mexican waters.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ruoff entertained in their home recently, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ruoff and sons, Paul and Joel, of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Ed Moore, of Santa Ana, was a recent visitor of her cousin, Mrs. G. M. Roberson.

Mrs. Sylvia Thompson and mother-in-law, of Whittier, called Tuesday morning at the J. J. Graham home and Mrs. Graham accompanied them on to Huntington Beach, where they spent the day as guests of Mrs. Graham's sister, Mrs. David Stuart. Mrs. Thompson is a daughter of Mrs. Stuart and a niece of Mrs. Graham.

Jack Graham, Mrs. J. J. Graham's little grandson, of Long Beach, turned Wednesday in the Graham home while his parents were attending the funeral of an uncle at Huntington Beach.

COAST GROWTH REVEALED IN C.O.F.C. TOTALS

BALBOA, Nov. 4.—The City of Newport Beach, of which Balboa is a part, is experiencing a tremendous growth, as revealed in statistics compiled recently by the Balboa Chamber of Commerce under the direction of Miss Lillian Van Osdale, secretary.

The figures show among other things that the city has grown from a population of 750 during the winter of 1920 to 3500 during the present winter. The summer population of the town jumped from about 2500 to more than 10,000 during the same period.

The assessed valuation of the town has increased more than $5,000,000 during the past three years. In 1924, the valuation of town property was placed at $7,589,811, while today, the valuation is set at $12,788,285.

Building permits in 1924 numbered 208 and for the present year to date total 811. The majority of the new buildings are homes. Building permits totaled $447,539 for the entire 12 months of 1924, while so far this year, permits total $441,864.

Postal receipts at the Newport Beach post office and at the Balboa post office show a large gain during the past year. Newport has a registered gain of 35 per cent and the Balboa post office has hung up a record with a gain of 37 per cent.

Bank deposits aggregate $386,182.29 at Newport Beach, and $444,949.39 at the Balboa bank. A number of manufacturing industries have been established in the town during the past two years and thousands of people have been drawn to the coast resorts on account of the many activities promoted by the city government and the chambers of commerce. It is estimated that approximately 100,000 people witnessed the five major events staged in the district during the past year. The events included the seventh annual bathing girls parade, the yachting regatta, the tournament of lights, a number of speed boat races and an A. A. U. swimming meet.

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, Nov. 4.—Mr. and Mrs. Phil McCintock and two sons are planning to leave to make their home in East Whittier within a month. They have just sold their dairy cows to a Mr. Larno, who has been on the Hazard place, and have also leased to him the 10 remaining acres of the ranch here. The other 10 they sold to J. Harper, of Midway City Gardens. This land adjoins the Midway tract on the north. Mr. McCintock has lived here for the past 15 years, and on account of his health and other reasons, it was decided to move to East Whittier where they have an orchard. The house the McCintocks are living in will probably be moved over to the 10 acres leased by Mr. Larno.

The cafeteria at the school is increasing in favor every day with the school children. About 60 students are being served with something hot each noon hour now, compared to a very few when school started.

NAVEL SEASON SCHEDULED TO BE OPENED IN COUNTY; 301 CARS TO BE SHIPPED

ANAHEIM, Nov. 4.—With Valencia shipping now in its last lap and expected to be fully wound up before the end of this month, Anaheim and other northern Orange county communities are making plans for the opening, early in December, of the district's brief navel season, with prospects for good prices during the period.

Estimates released this morning by the Northern Orange County Citrus exchange give 301 cars of navel, 19 cars of sweets, 23 cars of St. Michaels, 3 miscellaneous varieties and 17 cars of grape fruit as the amount to be handled by exchange houses during the winter citrus period.

Navel exchange houses, which are the Anaheim Orange and Lemon association and the Anaheim Citrus Fruit association, expect to handle approximately 55 cars or 22,000 boxes of navels during the period and a small quantity of the other miscellaneous varieties. A total of about 100 cars of navels is expected to be shipped from the Anaheim district from all houses, both independent and exchange.

The Anaheim Co-Operative Orange association, an independent house, which expects to handle 30 cars of navels during the period, does not plan, however, to commence shipping on this crop until after the first of the year, J. H. Ritchie, manager, said.

WATER LEVEL UP IN ORANGE WELLS

ORANGE, Nov. 4.—Water in the city wells has come up eight feet in the past two months in the gradual back to normal flow which always comes in the fall, according to W. J. Richardson, city water superintendent, who made his monthly report to the board of trustees yesterday. Although it has been several months since any appreciable amount of rain has fallen, it is said that the rains of last winter and spring are seeping through the ground into the wells at the present time. Next month will show a greater gain than that credited for the past month, stated Richardson.

Richardson's report for October showed a gain of 51 inches over last month's mark. This brought the level up to 168 feet, 3 inches. The raise in September was slightly more than four feet, stated Richardson. During October, the city pumps sucked 20,333,116 gallons from the wells. Of this, 20,173,552 gallons were forced into the city water mains, the report indicated. Pipe was laid for 734 feet on Maple avenue and Pixley street. One fire hydrant was installed on that line. Two-inch pipe was laid for 866 feet on North Parker street and for 140 feet on East Spangue avenue. Three new water connections were made during the month, according to Richardson's report. All fire hydrants were inspected and two, which were found defective, were repaired.

The board granted Richardson permission to apply a coating of waterproof material to the reservoir, which was reported to be leaking. The job was awarded to McEverlast company, of Los Angeles, represented at the board meeting by O. O. Farmer, sales manager. The company guaranteed to take the job of supplying the material for the 5000 square feet concerned for $100.

SHIPMENTS OF NEWPORT FISH BREAK RECORD

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 4.—Smelt shipments here promise to break all records during the present season, according to reports from J. P. Horman and Frank Futura, local fish dealers. During the past few weeks, the two fish dealers have shipped thousands of pounds of fish. Last week a record was set for smelt shipments, when the fish dealers shipped more than 30,000 pounds of smelt. The smelt season started in September and will end in February.

Newport Beach is the leading smelt fishing town in Southern California. The smelt are caught in a huge seine. The seine is taken out beyond the breaker line by a rowboat and then is pulled in by horses. Thousands of pounds of the tiny smelt are hauled onto the shore every day at Newport Beach and the town is rapidly getting a name in the fishing industry for the amount of smelt caught.

During the past 12 months, more than 500,000 pounds of fish have been shipped from Newport Beach. The actual figures as supplied by the state fish and game commissioner, W. L. Williamson, show 564,852 pounds, or slightly more than 282 tons.

Fish is shipped from Newport Beach includes practically every kind caught in Southern California waters. Mackerel shipments have amounted to 201,564 pounds. Halibut shipments came second with 92,576 pounds and smelt is third with 77,739. Barracuda, rock fish, albacore and rock bass are next in order. Lobsters also play an important part in the fishing industry here and during the past 12 months, 14,194 pounds of lobsters have been shipped from the town. Other fish shipped include mussels, clams, halfmoon, king fish, bonita, perch, sandbars, sardines, sculpin, black sea bass, white sea bass, sheepshead, sole, tuna and yellowtail.

Over in the Cypress home Acres tract, Jess Layton is building a modern stucco bungalow on Crescent street. On South Walker, the Brot Realty company has just completed the erection of two cottages, modern in every respect. The company has acquired more acreage and contemplates the construction of 12 other homes.

Fridy and Scone have completed the sale of an acre lot on the corner of Sprague and La Homa avenues to S. F. Dyer, of Straffmore. Mr. Dyer has contracted the erection of a six-room bungalow to be completed by January 1. Mr. Dyer will install equipment to care for 1000 hens.

G. E. Gray and family, of Long Beach, have purchased a half acre lot on Sprague avenue. The erection of a modern five-room stucco residence will begin just as soon as materials can be placed on the ground.

Anaheim Music Course to Open In School Nov. 12

ANAHEIM, Nov. 4.—Appearance of the Zoellner string quartet here in concert performances to be given in the auditorium of the Anaheim union high school on the afternoon and evening of November 12, as announced today, will mark the opening of the P.-T. A. artists' course to be given here during the winter months.

The course, which is being sponsored at an educational move throughout the county by the Orange county P.-T. A., and which has been endorsed here by the leading churches, civic clubs and other bodies interested in cultural matters, is to include six distinct concerts.

These consist of an evening concert by the John Smallman A. Capella choir, a matinee and evening performance by Charles Wakefield Cadman, composer, pianist, and James Murray, baritone; an evening concert by Grace Wood Jess, folk singer, an afternoon and evening, the concert by the Zoellner quartet, and a program arranged by Clarence Gustlin, under whose direction the entire course is to be presented.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morgan entertained one evening last week with a get-together family social. Refreshments were served. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bowman, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Baker and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morgan and Mr. and Mrs. Luther Pebley and family.

The Alamos Friends church, under the supervision of its pastor, the Rev. Browner, has organized a men's brotherhood. The first meeting of the new organization was held Tuesday evening. After a program, refreshments were served, furnished by the Aid society of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bowman had as Sunday guests, Mr. and Mrs. George Long and baby, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morgan, Mrs. Elizabeth Bowman, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morgan and two daughters, Fern and Juaneta.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Kitchens gave a birthday and Halloween party for their daughter, Mrs. Charles Borland, of Fullerton, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Pebley and three daughters, Emma, Lena and Dorothy, and son, Arthur Pebley, and wife, arrived last Thursday from Oklahoma and are visiting Lennard Pebley and Luther Pebley.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Birt, and two sons, John and Maurice, and Tom Birt, visited Mr. and Mrs. Mark Nordstrom and George Trigs Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McInnis spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ketchum, of Glendale.

Michael Hein and family have moved from Red Bluff to their ranch near Hansen. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Birtner who have been living on the ranch, have moved to the Hansen ranch.

I. M. Fouts, Sawtelle, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Treffern.

Name County Legion Head Nov. 12

BREA, Nov. 4.—Members of the county Legion council will be the dinner guests of the local post on November 12. Seventy-five guests from all over the county are expected to be present. At this time a new commander to succeed Ted Craig, of Brea, will be elected and decision made as to the location of the 1927 Armistice day celebration.

GASOLINE COMPANY TO ENLARGE PLANT

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 4.—The Ahlburg Gasoline company, which recently was issued a permit to erect a $15,000 absorption plant, is laying plans to erect a much larger and permanent plant in the western section of this city, according to reports.

The company now has a portable plant up on Ocean avenue near Eighteenth street. It is also contemplating the erection of a new rig, according to reports. The rig will be located on Eighteenth street near the absorption plant.

TUSTIN CHURCH BUYS NEW HOME

TUSTIN, Nov. 4.—The People's Methodist church of Tustin is to have a new home soon. It was announced today. Members of the church have purchased a large frame building from the Tustin estate and will remodel it into a church. The building was formerly used as a restaurant.

The building was moved from its location on D street to the corner of C and Second streets yesterday. Members of the church secured the property, which is directly in front of the grammar school, some time ago.

The improvements to the church will cost approximately $1500, according to reports. The present roof on the structure is to be taken off and a flat roof put on, the outside of the building is to be covered with stucco and extensive improvements are to be made on the interior of the building.

P. E. O. Luncheon Set for Nov. 12

ORANGE, Nov. 4.—Plans for a reception luncheon to be given November 12 in the Woman's clubhouse for all P. E. O. chapters in Orange county were formulated at the regular bi-monthly meeting of the local P. E. O. chapter yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Robert Johnson, of Hardy street.

Mrs. H. C. Upham, Mrs. M. L. Pearson, Mrs. Elmer Hayward and Mrs. Dora Wallace were appointed on a general committee for the affair.

Yesterday's meeting was featured by drills in the P. E. O. constitution by Mrs. Maud Wagoner, of Placentia, and Robert's Rules of Order, by Mrs. Elmer Hayward.

EL MODENA

EL MODENA, Nov. 4.—The P. T. A. meeting was held Tuesday afternoon in the Roosevelt assembly room. Chairman of committees were named, as follows: Social, Mrs. William Thomas; programs, Mrs. George Stoner; publicity, Mrs. R. C. Adams.

Miss Moore, the music teacher of the school, rendered a piano solo. At the next meeting, December 7, "Discipline" will be discussed.

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Hodson were in Los Angeles Sunday to see Mrs. Hodson's sister, Mrs. Mary Phelan, who is very ill.

The George Dollards have moved back to their own house, after occupying the Linney place for several months.

Emmett B. Berry, principal of La Habra schools, visited the El Modena schools Tuesday.

Ed Waffie was a Los Angeles visitor Tuesday.

STREET STOPS PROVIDED BY ORANGE BOARD

ORANGE, Nov. 4.—Three boulevard stops, to be installed at the intersections of Palm and North Glassell, Batavia street and West Chapman avenue and Tustin street and East Chapman avenue, were provided for in an ordinance presented to the board of trustees yesterday afternoon for second reading. The ordinance will go into effect following the final reading at the next meeting.

Parking arrangements in the plaza were changed by order of the board. On the sides of the plaza to the right of each intersecting street, cars hereafter will park diagonal to the curb rather than at right angles to it, according to a decision of the board. The sides of the plaza to the left of each intersecting street will continue to be marked for right angle parking.

C. C. Bonebrake, street superintendent, reported the completion of the oiling and graving of East Palm avenue between Magnolia street and Tustin street.

Because it is the consensus of the board that Orange is well enough illuminated for present needs, no action was taken on the request of the business men that 666 new type light globes be installed in the lighting district at a cost of approximately $1600.

At the request of representatives of the chamber of commerce, the board appropriated $83.33 per month for six months starting January 1, 1927, for advertising

WE'LL ENFORCE OUR OWN ACT

At this time, Thursday morning, the fate of the Wright act is still in doubt. Yesterday's returns indicated that the act had been repealed; this morning's totals give the act a chance. If it remains in force, it will be by but a small majority.

If the Wright act is repealed, Orange county's duty is plain. We have our own city and county ordinances fashioned much along the line of the Wright act. If the state declines to give state, county and township officers authority to enforce the Volstead act, authority can be given by any county or city that desires to give it. Even before the Wright act was passed, Orange county had an enforcement act. Since the passage of the Wright act, prosecutions, advisedly, in this county have been under that act. If the Wright act is set aside, we can proceed under the old ordinance, or get a new one that will give local authority.

It is unthinkable that this county will throw up its hands and surrender to the bootlegger. There are two good reasons why we won't. One is that we don't want the stuff, and the other is that we believe in standing for law enforcement as a principle. In making this statement, The Register does not doubt that it speaks unofficially for the great majority of the voters of this county. The voters of this county spoke officially at Tuesday's election. They declared themselves by a 3-to-1 vote in favor of the Wright act.

A CITY'S EYE FOR BEAUTY

In Southern California, the most outstanding difference between communities of corresponding size is trees.

Residences and business streets look a good deal alike; it is trees that make distinctiveness.

Some of our Southern California cities have an eye to beauty as well as to monetary advantage; they find that beauty is a financial asset. They believe that a tree beside the highway will attract more interest among prospective residents than all the advertising that can be done on billboards occupying space along the same highway.

And some of our cities stand by with an ax at hand, ready to cut and slash at every opportunity. Anybody for any reason, good or bad, can cut the tree in his parking, and sometimes, if the property owner doesn't do the cutting, the city comes along and does it for him, or else the city lets a public service corporation using wires gash out the top, thus mutilating the tree forever.

QUIET LOCOMOTION

Notable progress has been made lately in silencing automobile noise and vibration. Tightness and elasticity are combined to this purpose. Leather and rubber are used to take up the minute movements between contacting metal surfaces which produces squeaks and rattles. Rubber washers and cushions are preventing noises originating in the engine or any other part of the car mechanism from being transferred and made audible in other parts. Automobiles may soon be as quiet as cats.

Inspired perhaps by this automotive progress, the railroads are taking a new interest in silencing their rolling stock. On one American railroad Pullman cars with roller bearings are being installed. That not only makes them run with less friction, but with less noise. There is said to be "velvet smoothness in riding at all speeds, coupled with entire absence of tug and jar in starting and stopping."

Much might be done with ordinary coaches and locomotives, likewise, by applying automobile devices to deaden vibration and reduce shock. There is still more room for improvement in trolley cars. The cost of such innovations would seem large in the beginning, but would probably pay in reduced cost of operation and longer life of the car. Ultimate economy, as well as human comfort, calls for the silencing of noises in every kind of traveling equipment.

TREASURE IS FOUND

The biggest stroke of luck reported is that of J. A. Pollard and Edith Truitt of Burnsville, N. C., owners of a supposedly worthless tract of land on which there has been discovered a "billion dollar deposit of cyanite."

That is a rare and valuable mineral, prized because of its high resistance to heat and used in making crucibles for steel manufacture. With a plentiful supply available, it will doubtless find many other uses. There are said to be "three solid mountains of it," aggregating about 10,000,000 tons. Probably no gold mine ever discovered was so valuable as that.

There is a social value in it along with the personal value to the owners. Every dollar's worth of cyanite used industrially will make several dollars for the rest of us in useful products.

It is particularly interesting when such a treasure is discovered in an old state, whose resources were supposed to be known. New forms of wealth are always being discovered, as exploration continues and industry develops. Things that formerly had no value, because there was no use for them, or no way to handle them, suddenly become precious.

The natural resources remaining in this country are incalculable. Brains and work make wealth in countless ways. Many a tract of land now seemingly not worth a dollar may turn out, sooner or later, to be worth a billion.

WHEN AN INDUSTRY QUILTS

Lloyd George estimates that the British coal strike has cost the nation about $2,500,000,000 in the last six months. That is very likely. The lost wages and profits of the labor and capital in the industry itself, though great, are a minor consideration. Other industries have been handicapped, trade has dragged, general business has been prostrated. Peace is said to be hopeless.

Every strike in a fundamental industry has such an effect. No industry "liveth unto itself," or "dieth unto itself." Industries are "members one of another."

er." When the coal or iron or transportation industry is tied up by a strike, it is as if an individual's stomach or heart or spinal chord were on strike. Society is an organism made up of many organs, all of which have to act together, else the rest suffer and die with it.

It is just as necessary to prevent strikes in industrial nations as it is to prevent wars between nations. Couldn't a League of Industries do something about that?

Conserving Wild Life

Oakland Tribune

Some encouraging news for lovers of wild life is to be found in the reports which were made to the twenty-second annual meeting of the National Association of Audubon Societies in New York last week.

Most species of small birds, according to Dr. T. Gilbert Pearson, president of the organization, are on the increase, and large game animals, in many sections, continue to show a disposition to increase to the full extent of the range which they occupy. Wild fowl are reported as holding their own or gaining over large areas of North America, despite the annual toll taken by gunners and the "perfectly enormous economic waste of their bodies as a result of alkali and perhaps algae poisoning in the Northwestern states and Canada."

The association, which has conducted an educational program through the year, has lectured to more than a quarter of a million persons. It reports there are 327,776 new members of the Junior club, and that the total enrollment is now 3,065,120 children. There are close to 9000 adult members and 120 affiliated organizations. An illuminating paragraph from the report follows:

"The protection given colonies of nesting sea birds, as well as egrets and other members of the heron family, has been continued through the employment of special wardens. Approximately 130,000 of these birds and their nests have received protection in this manner. Many thousands of wild ducks and geese have likewise received protection on the Paul J. Rainey sanctuary on the Louisiana coast, which consists of 26,000 acres, and is owned and administered by this society."

October, Summer Month

Riverside Press

The month of October this year was really a summer month. The mean temperature of 67.3 was higher than for any other October in the last ten years and was only a little lower than the September mean of 70.2. The highest maximum of 101 was higher than any maximum recorded in September—88 being the highest registered during that month. There were four days last month with a maximum of 100 or over. Occasional days with high temperatures are not exceptional. In October, in 1917 we had a maximum of 104 and in 1921 a maximum of 106. October of this year, however, was exceptional in that high temperatures were frequent throughout the month.

The following review of October temperatures for the last decade will be found of interest:

	Maximum	Mean	Above 90	Days
October, 1916	88	58	0
October, 1917	104	67.2	13
October, 1918	95	66	8
October, 1919	89	66	0

San Bernardino traffic officers find that high school pupils are the chief offenders against the speed laws there. That is but natural. A child of the high school age is naturally venturesome and his idea of the situation, when he is in control of an automobile is apt to be that if he can speed a little and get away with it, he is something of a hero, in his own eyes at least, and perhaps in those of a pretty girl associate. One of the best ways of curing this disease, for disease it is, is to keep the high school boy and the family flivver widely separated.—San Bernardino Sun.

INHERITED TRAITS SHOW WHEN COUSINS ARE MARRIED

One of the most common questions that disturbs the minds of many people is whether the marriage of first cousins is desirable. There is a sort of superstition that the offspring of such a union are bound to be defective either mentally or physically. First cousins who have married watch with the greatest anxiety to find out whether the children are apparently healthy and intelligent will begin to deteriorate as they increase in age.

The actual facts are that close relationship of persons who are married is likely to accentuate dominant characteristics in the offspring, whether good or evil.

Any traits manifested by the children are a reflection of the traits of their ancestors. If certain defects are prominent, these will be developed with results that are disastrous. Every person carries in his body not only evident characteristics, but innumerable latent features which he himself has inherited from ancestors, but which have not become manifest.

When two such concealed tendencies are brought together, as is more likely to occur in cousin marriages than in the mating between unrelated persons, these latent characteristics are more likely to become fully expressed in the children.

Among the characteristics which sometimes remain dormant in a sound stock are epilepsy, various insanities and types of body structure associated with such diseases as tuberculosis.

As long as these tendencies are dominated by more normal tendencies, they may do no harm, but the marriage of cousins may bring them to light.

There are few families that do not possess some undesirable hereditary traits. If cousins decide to marry, they should do so with the knowledge of extra dangers that they impose on their prospective children.

If each of the parents is sound physically and mentally and if the ancestry is apparently equally sound, there are no more likely to be defective children from marriage of cousins than from any other marriage. Desirable traits will be manifested to the same extent as the undesirable.

"Divided We Fall"

Small Homes Needed

Pasadena Star-News

All enterprising cities, here in California and elsewhere, make much ado over their beautiful and costly homes. Well they may. Handsome and expensive homes are attractive features of any city. It is well to have them. It is well to encourage the building of fine homes.

But in the life and development of the modern American municipality, there is more to be thought of than expensive homes and those who are able to build, buy or rent palatial residences. It should be remembered that there is a numerous element of the population of every city financially unable to live in large and costly homes. Furthermore, there are families of comfortable means—even of opulence—who do not care for large and elaborate homes. There is demand, therefore, for many small houses in and about every city. Nor should those who live in mansions disdain the small house. Neither should there be hamper to the building of small, inexpensive dwellings for those of limited means. It is possible, here in California, to construct small two, three or four-room houses, quite neat and attractive in appearance, at very moderate cost. The building of many small houses, attractive and unobjectionable in appearance and appointments, should be encouraged.

This locality and every other center of population in the state require housing for families of workmen and those whose income is relatively small and whose savings are modest. It should be possible to buy small homes at moderate prices, on easy terms. And there should be ample supply of small houses for rent at low figures. This is an acute social need that should not be neglected or ignored in any locality.

Worth While Verse

THE HAPPY HEART

Art thou poor, yet hast thou golden slumbers?
O sweet content!
Art thou rich, yet is thy mind perplex'd?
O punishment!
Dost thou laugh to see how fools are vex'd
To add to golden numbers golden numbers?
O sweet content! O sweet, O sweet content!
Work apace, apace, apace, apace;
Honest labor bears a lovely face;
Then hey nonny nonny, hey nonny nonny!

Canst drink the waters of the crisped spring?
O sweet content!
Swim'st thou in wealth, yet sink'st in thine own tears?
O punishment!
Then he that patiently want's burden bears
No burden bears, but is a king, a king!
O sweet content, O sweet, O sweet content!
Work apace, apace, apace, apace;
Honest labor bears a lovely face;
Then hey nonny nonny, hey nonny nonny!

Even the pessimist enjoy the good things he has if he weren't kept so busy grumbling about the disagreeable things he expects.

Little Benny's Note Book

I wasn't exte good today, and ma told pop about me and pop wouldn't leave me go out after supper, and he was adding up figures in his checkbook trying to find out weather he was rite or weather the bank was rite, like he does every month, and the fellows started to wisle outside, me saying, There's the fellows wiseling, pop.

Do you suppose they wiseling for me? pop sed, and I sed, No sir, for me, and he sed, Then why should I be intristred?
Proving he didn't feel like taking the hint, and he kept on adding figures with a ixpression as if he was afraid the bank was going to be rite and he was going to be rong, and I started to make sounds in the back of my throat trying to see how neer I could come to cawling without actually, and after a while pop sed, Yee gods, if your going to cawf, cawf.

I went going to cawf, pop, I sed. Well then wats the idee of all the rehearsing? pop sed. Lets see, wats was I, youve got me all balled up heer, 4 from 11 is 8, no, 7, he sed.

And after a while I wondered how a herd would sneeze if berds sneezed, and I started to make different funny kinds of sounds through my nose trying to find out, and pop sed, For Peet sake thats even worse, havent you got a handkerchiff.

I dont need one, pop, Im fest trying something. Im jest making experiments, I sed, and pop sed, Your making me fit for an insane asylum, thats wat your making, go on out with the rest of those howling derishes.

Im jest making me fit for an insane asylum, thats wat your making, go on out with the rest of those howling derishes.

In the Long Ago

A 50-car train of poultry and dairy products valued at $500,000 arrived at New York from Omaha.

Vera Cruz, Mexico's Front Door

Vera Cruz, Mexico, struck by a West Indian hurricane hard on the heels of that which devastated Miami, is the subject of the bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic society.

"The immediate coast country at Vera Cruz, like that at Miami, is low, offering no physical resistance to the sweep of the wind," says the bulletin. "And as at Miami, there is little to prevent the water being driven inland with the rush of air."

"Vera Cruz is Mexico's front door, and has been such ever since Cortez landed there in 1519 to march on to the west and conquer Mexico for Spain. But the city does not constitute a very attractive portal in so far as its immediate surroundings are concerned. To both sides and even behind it are sand dunes; it seems set down in a very desolate country."

"This is true only superficially, for a few miles back begins one of Mexico's richest agricultural sections. Rice fields and banana and coconut groves occupy the lowlands beyond the sand dunes. As the ground rises rapidly first into foothills, then into true mountains, the crops and natural vegetation run the gamut from tropical to Arctic. One needs to advance inland barely 50 miles in order to see successively the plants of the hot plains, then pineapples, oranges, vanilla beans, cocoa, sugar cane, coffee, corn and small grains. The tangled mass of vine-tied tropical trees give way at the same time to oaks and conifers, and soon one has passed timberline."

"Northward of Vera Cruz there are no breaks in the coast for a considerable distance, and at about 40 miles in this direction the inland hills draw very close to the sea. Southward after a few miles, are breaks leading to lagoons lying behind the sandy coastal ridge, which receive the flow of rivers from the hills. Here are situated some very large sugar mills—one the largest in Mexico—that may have suffered from the storm."

"Like its site, Vera Cruz is a low lying town. A few government buildings and churches rise for several stories, but most of the houses are one-story structures of adobe or stucco, many of them with tinted walls."

"Improvements, Health
"A generation ago Vera Cruz had an unsavory reputation as a pest hole; every year there were hundreds of deaths from yellow fever. When boats landed, travelers rushed out of town as rapidly as possible seeking to reach the high, healthful country inland. Thanks to efficient modern engineering and sanitation, however, the city is today a safe place of residence for peoples of the temperate zone. There is a filtered water supply brought from a considerable distance inland; an up-to-date sewer system; and many of the streets have been paved."

"In the old day of improved streets and open sewers, the only scavengers were buzzards. Hundreds of these ugly birds were constantly busy hopping about in search of morsels of food. There is a garbage collection system now, but the 'volunteer scavenger brigade' has not been entirely disbanded; the birds are still to be seen perched on the roofs of the market buildings and at other prominent locations ready to claim any morsels of food that may be tossed aside."

Fortress 400 Years
"The grim old fortress, San Juan de Ulua, which dominates the harbor of Vera Cruz, epitomizes the past of the port and the past, too, of Mexico. It is a great, rambling medieval stronghold built on a rocky island about a mile from shore. This massive pile, at once fort and prison, has brooded over Vera Cruz for four centuries, for it was begun approximately a hundred years before the Mayflower landed at Plymouth."

"The 18-foot thick walls of San Juan have hidden cruel and ghastly incidents from the days when Spanish treasure ships assembled there down to recent times. Political prisoners were confined there, the little parade ground has been the site for many a firing squad, and persons whose existence proved an embarrassment for some one or other in power has disappeared mysteriously—probably into the shark-infested waters that lap against the sheer outer walls."

"When American sailors and marines captured San Juan in April, 1914, the place received its first cleaning in nearly 400 years. Prisoners, little more than human skeletons, were found and liberated, who had not been exposed to sunlight and the open air for nearly a quarter of a century. Since this time the old dungeons below sea level have been sealed up, windows have been opened to other rooms, and San Juan's horrors seem at an end."

Give and Take

The Knave in Oakland Tribune

Former Senator James D. Phelan, who has been busy since his return from Europe making laudatory speeches about Mussolini, whom he interviewed in Rome, brought back with him a fund of good stories, which he has been using here and there to illustrate a point in his talks and which have also served to sustain his reputation as a raconteur. One of his observations is that a spirit of "give and take" should mark the discussion of international problems. Another is that a taunt from lips should not prove offensive if it has the saving grace of humor. To illustrate both he has been telling of meeting a California woman in the south of France who complained to Phelan that she had been insulted at a social affair in England by a story from the host which cast a slur at America's participation in the war. Interested, Phelan asked if the story was funny, and while the countrywoman didn't seem to think so, the former senator enjoyed it sufficiently to find amusement in recounting it. The California woman's host told of a driver in the West Indies who descended into shark-infested waters and came up unscathed. On being asked how he escaped attack, he said it had been simple, a mere sign attached to the back of his diving suit keeping the sharks away. "And what was the sign?" he was asked. "American won the war," he replied. "And you know," laughed the California woman's host, "not even a shark could swallow that." Driving home the argument that good natured repartee should turn such shafts, Phelan has been telling another story about the American Lieutenant in England, who, having been served some beer, complained that it was stale. "It got stale waiting for America to enter the war," the waiter told him. "Well," came back the American, "didn't the A. E. F. help out a little?" "And what's the A. E. F. stand for?" he was asked. "After England Failed," said the American Lieutenant.

The Hallowe'en Cat

By SHIRLEY RODMAN WILLIAMS

FROM time immemorial, the last night in October has been called Hallowe'en.

It is the great anniversary of fairies, gnomes, elves and witches. On this night spirits are supposed to wander abroad and mischief making elves to bring terror and confusion to mortals. The pranks which humans play mimic the supposed mischief of the "Only Just Pretend" world. Hallowe'en is a curious mixture of Pagan and Christian beliefs. At first it was a Pagan and Druid festival. Then, when Christianity came into the world, Hallowe'en became "Hallow Eve" or "All Saints' Night," but many of the Pagan customs were retained. So it was kept for centuries. From a night of serious religious rites, it has now developed into a night for child's play, pranks and the practice of empty usages. So we crack nuts, bob for apples, throw peelings over our shoulder and look into a mirror by candle light as our Pagan ancestors did centuries ago. The chief function of Hallowe'en nowadays is an excuse for parties and merry-making. As such, the children plan for it and love it.

OUR big fluffy white cat

On the warm hearth-rug sat,
Purring and dreaming of this and that;
When a Hallowe'en goblin
Came swaying and wobbling
And grinned at Miss Pussy as past her 'twas hobbling

Puss' hair stood on end,
Her back arched in a bend
As past her the goblin his gay way did wend,
And then up the chimney
He snatched her, by Jim'my,
Before she could realize what happened, 'e'en dimly.

From the tall chimney hole
She popped, blacker than coal
And far to the land of the goblins they stole,
She spent the night dancing
With goblins a-prancing
And never came home till the dawn was advancing.

Must have happened like that,
Or how else could a cat
Come back all arched up and as black as a bat?
And John heard some screaming
(Unless he was dreaming)
So he's sure all the goblins were out Hallowe'ning!
